HERRIOT ADMITS PACT NOT AIMED AT DEBT TO U. S.

Lausanne Accord Is Called Subject of Statement.

TENSION ENDED ON AGREEMENT

Industrial Benefits in Treaty With Britain Are Stressed.

Paris, July 15 (U.P.).—Stressing the "commercial" features of the Anglo-French pact, Premier Edouard Herriot today reversed his position on the agreement and admitted that it is not concerned with Europe's $11,000,000,000 debt to the United States.

Herriot blamed "a false interpretation" of his statement to the foreign affairs commission on Wednesday for the furore that was occasioned abroad, particularly in America, when it appeared that the agreement was actually a provision for concerted European action directed against the United States.

"A false interpretation of my remarks," the premier said, "caused the misunderstanding. The impression became current that I was referring to the Franco-British accord, when actually I meant the 'gentleman's agreement' made at Lausanne.

Spoke of Lausanne Accord.

"In mentioning the British debt settlement with the United States, I referred to the 'gentleman's agreement' and not to this accord."

Without confirming his reported statement that Great Britain is bound not to negotiate with the United States without consulting France, Herriot pointed out that the "gentleman's agreement" provides that the Lausanne compact will be ineffective until all of Germany's creditors reach a satisfactory settlement with their own creditors—of which the United States is the largest.

Continuing his explanation of the Lausanne agreements, Herriot told the Senate: "We succeeded in having it admitted that there was a correlation between the problem of reparations and the problem of our debts to the United States. Such a corelation has never before been established. We were able to do so at the very beginning of the conference."

Hoover's Letter Assailed.

Paris comment on President Hoover's letter to Senator Borah, in which the President said the United States was not a party to any arrangement by which revision of debts would be determined under the mechanism of the Lausanne agreements, was inclined to be bitter.

The nationalistic newspaper La Liberte said:

"Verily Pontius Pilate was not more cynical or more odious. What was the Lausanne conference if not a direct and logical consequence of the Hoover moratorium? Does this government, which obeys gangsters, which capitulates helplessly before thieves and assassins of babies in the cradle, care to assume such a height of moral authority that it thinks it can dictate to Europe and France?

"Americans are the only race which passed directly from barbarism to decadence without knowing civilization." The senate tonight passed Herriot's budget bill unanimously.

(Associated Press.)

Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador, called at the State Department yesterday and explained to Acting Secretary Castle the English interpretation of the Anglo-French accord which Britain holds does not in any way prevent it from negotiating individually with the United States for a debt settlement.

Robbery Suspect Dies After 8-Hour Grilling

Mineola, N. Y., July 15 (A.P.).—A robbery suspect died in the police station tonight after an 8-hour grilling by detectives. The detectives refused to discuss the episode and the cause of death was not made public. Inspector Frank E. McCahill, who was summoned by his subordinates, ordered an autopsy for tomorrow. District Attorney Elvin Edwards also promised an investigation.

The dead man was Hyman Stark, 20, of New York. He and three companions were alleged to have broken into the Syosset home of Mrs. Alerie Hlenski, 65, and to have beaten her with pistol butts so badly she may die.

Georgia Bank Robber Slain; 2 Others Held

Greenville, Ga., July 15 (A.P.).—An unidentified man was shot to death and two others were captured here today in a pistol battle between officers and bandits who had robbed the bank of Grantville of about $2,500 and fled, leaving the cashier and a customer locked in the vault.

Trade Parley Sponsored by League Group

Geneva, July 15 (A.P.).—The council of the League of Nations today constituted itself sponsor for the international monetary and economic conference provided for by the Lausanne reparations treaty. A combination political and technical organization was set up to prepare for the meeting.

The selection of a date for opening the conference and a place for holding it was avoided, but informed quarters expected it to begin next October in London or Geneva. The exact date depends on the progress in preparations.

The place for the parley will provide a lively issue for the league assembly meeting in September, as small nations want to hold it in Geneva and Britain is pressing for London.

In deciding to convoke the conference, the council acted on a motion by Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, who emphasized that the initiative for it came from Lausanne. But the Spanish and Irish representatives recalled that a similar proposal had been made to the council

DE VALERA'S PARLEY WITH PREMIER FAILS

Split on Annuity Payments June 30 Breaks Up Conference.

London, July 15 (A.P.).—All efforts by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and President De Valera of the Irish Free State to avert an Anglo-Irish economic war, with tariffs as the weapons, failed tonight, and tomorrow Mr. MacDonald will fly to Lossiemouth, Scotland, while Mr. De Valera will return to Dublin.

It is understood that at the conference tonight Mr. De Valera again insisted that any arbitration tribunal have representation from nations outside the British Commonwealth and that Mr. MacDonald was adamant for an all-commonwealth board.

The Free State president then proposed that a joint committee examine and negotiate their differences. Both president and prime minister were willing to negotiate, but Mr. MacDonald demanded that the annuities due June 30 first be paid, as negotiations regarding the future could not affect them.

Mr. De Valera rejected this, insisting that the June 30 payment be embraced in the negotiations. Neither side budged and the conference broke up.

The Irish reprisal duties bill, drawn up by the De Valera government in retaliation against the tariffs imposed against the principal imports from Ireland into Britain, goes to the Irish Senate on Monday. It can not be blocked there and early next week it may become effective.

The Free State president arrived this evening at Euston Station. In the crowd that awaited him there were two factions, one of which shouted, "Hurrah for De Valera," and the other, "Down with De Valera."

The controversy is of particular importance at this time because the Ottawa imperial conference opens next Thursday. Whether Britain will treat with the Irish representatives at that parley remains doubtful.

Crew Is Rescued As Sailboat Burns

World Tour Ship Reported to Have Saved Men on Atlantic.

Cape May, N. J., July 15 (U.P.).—Rescue of the crew of the Darling, a 25-foot sailboat which burned completely and sank about 14 miles east of Absecon Light at midnight last night, was reported today by a wireless message from the President Monroe, which took the men on board.

The President Monroe is on a world tour and is now headed for Panama. The message did not state whether the ship would land the survivors at a port.

After the burning boat had been reported by three steamers about midnight, Commander McLane, in command of Coast Guard Base No. 9 at Cape May, ordered a search made by all available patrol boats and a seaplane, stressing the importance of making a thorough search for castaways since the ship had been reported having burned to the water's [illegible]

B. E. F. TO MASS FOR PROTEST AT CAPITOL TODAY

Main Body and Left Wing to Join in 10 A. M. Demonstration.

GLASSFORD REPLIES TO NEW CRITICISM

Police Board of Congress Charges He Acted Without Authority.

The main body of the bonus army encamped here will mingle its might at 10 o'clock this morning with the tired left wing trampers in a mass demonstration on the Capitol plaza against the adjournment of Congress without action on bonus legislation.

Roy Robertson, war-maimed leader of the left wing group, struck the spark for the coordinated display of strength early last night as many fresher veterans began to lengthen the lines that have trudged back and forth in front of the Capitol for nearly three days.

At 10 o'clock last night when the plans for today became known throughout the camps, a high pitch of enthusiasm was reached. Groups from several camps began to march to the Capitol at once and within an hour the scant hundreds already there swelled to about 2,000.

Rain Lessens Crowd.

Scattered bugles and drums beat alternate spirited airs and steady marching dirges for the marchers. They sang, they cheered and a few shouted derisive political taunts. Then came the rain that increased from a drizzle to a steady downpour. A few minutes after midnight the files had dwindled down to the original number earlier in the evening.

Calling on all veterans to unite today as the adjournment of Congress is at hand, Robertson further moved toward an indefinite picket of the White House when the legislative body takes its leave.

Waters Orders March.

A scant two hours after Robertson had made his appeal, Commander Walter W. Waters, of the regular bonus forces, issued an urgent order to all camps in the city environs for their personnel to march in military order this morning, converging at 10 o'clock on the plaza.

Approximately 450 veterans, a few women interspersed here and there, had moved in wearily patient lines across the Plaza earlier last night. Their numbers had dwindled during the day to as low as a score, but rest and recruits from the regular army had swelled the ranks.

At one time during the day the left wing—who have been markedly peaceable since their advent here—moved from the east front of the Capitol to the west side, while continuing their march. This was their

Five Men Killed In Oil Ship Blast

Four More Missing After Tanker Explodes in Mississippi.

New Orleans, La., July 15 (A.P.).—The oil tanker Raleigh Warner, out of Port Arthur, Tex., exploded in the Mississippi River 20 miles north of New Orleans today and five seamen were killed. Four others are missing. Several other members of the crew suffered minor injuries before they fled the ship and took refuge on levees.

Fears were expressed that the missing men were trapped in the hold and perished.

Thus far, Capt. T. V. Jenkins, master of the tanker, and firemen have not determined the cause.

Two distinct blasts rocked the Raleigh Warner from stem to stern and she burst into flames immediately. She had just finished loading 40,000 gallons of gasoline at the Goodhope plant of the American Tank Car Storage & Terminal Co. The vessel and her cargo were valued at $550,000.

Threat to Kidnap Boy Made in Florida Case

Jacksonville, Fla., July 15 (A.P.).—A kidnaping threat against the 18-year-old son of Al P. Gorman, foreman of the grand jury investigating prison camp conditions following the "sweat box" death of a young convict from New Jersey, was reported today by Gorman, who said yesterday his own life had been threatened. He said his home would be guarded, but police had no official report of either threat.

"Well, you know about the Lindbergh case," Gorman quoted an unidentified man as telling him by telephone today. "Unless you stop this investigation, your son will be kidnaped tonight."

Hoover Cuts Own Pay As New Scale Starts

President Will Get $60,000; Curtis and Cabinet Members Also Agree to Reduction Along With Workers in Nine Departments.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Employes in nine Government departments yesterday felt the first pinch of Federal economy, when approximately $4,000,000, shorn from pay envelopes for the most part thinly lined, was turned back into the Federal Treasury.

Commiseration, and an example set by the President and his Cabinet, helped to soften the blow of the 8 1-3 per cent pay cut. Mr. Hoover voluntarily took a 20 per cent reduction, cutting his annual income $15,000. Cabinet members accepted 15 per cent less.

Some 3,000 War Department clerks received no wages at all, due to belated passage of the Army supply bill. This omission will be remedied today when department accountants catch up with their schedule. A few late pay-offs were made yesterday.

Meanwhile concurrent studies are in progress in all of the departments to see how broadly the five-day week principle approved by the President may be called into practice. Its use is optional with heads of departments. Indications are operations of Government will prevent its universal application.

Comptroller General J. R. McCarl struck again yesterday, with still another ruling on the economy act. This time his decision hit Army, Navy, Marine and Coast Guard officers. The Comptroller ruled the economy act prohibition on "annual leave" applies to "ordinary leave," "leave on half pay" and other classes of time-off allowed in the military services.

Among those affected were 250 graduates of the West Point Military Academy. Heretofore they have always received three months' leave

TRACTION BILL GOES OVER TO NEXT TERM

Senator Austin Is Praised in Withdrawing Measure to Aid Pending Program.

The District's perennial traction consolidation bill yesterday definitely went over until the short session of Congress, when Senator Austin (Republican), of Vermont, who had sought for two days to call it before the Senate, withdrew his motion.

Before laying it aside, he charged "an organized plan to prevent consideration of this measure." He said withdrawal was made because of the imminence of adjournment and the importance of pending legislation.

His action called forth the commendation of a number of senators, including that arch-foe of the merger, Senator Blaine (Republican), of Wisconsin. Senator Blaine's words of praise followed a withering attack on the House merger bill, which he said would cost District taxpayers between $250,000 and $400,000 a year.

Tracing the history of attempts at merger legislation, Senator Austin defended the majority Senate District committee report in favor of the bill.

"There is not one drop of water in this proposed merger," he said, citing provisions of the bill that stocks and bonds of the new company may not exceed in value securities of the companies merged.

Senator McKellar (Democrat), Tennessee, interposed that there is "a lot of water" in the traction securities.

Senator Austin reiterated:

"In my opinion there is not one cent of the stocks and bonds of

Cuban Demand Causes Sugar Parley Deadlock

Ostend, Belgium, July 15 (A.P.).—The international sugar conference today reached a deadlock resulting from Cuba's demand for a 250,000-ton increase in export quota during the next three years to compensate for reduced exports to the United States, which now is importing 850,000 tons of the production of 1,000,000 tons in the Philippines.

OHIO'S REPUBLICANS STICK TO PLATFORM

Convention Rejects Wet Delegation's Plan for Repeal Stand.

Columbus, Ohio, July 15 (A.P.).—Ohio Republicans today smothered a "dripping wet" delegation from Cincinnati and decided to stick to the party's national stand on prohibition.

Although its candidates for governor and senator campaigned as opponents of the eighteenth amendment in winning the nominations, the party's State covention overwhelmingly approved the national Republican platform which calls for resubmission of the liquor question.

A minority report demanding the party pledge itself to prohibition repeal and substitution of local option lost by a vote of 708 to 130 after a battle on the floor. The demand for repeal was supported principally by the Cincinnati delegation.

Political observers saw the hand of the national administration in the adoption of the prohibition plank and the selection of former Lieut. Gov. Charles Lewis as campaign manager. Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, Postmaster General Walter F. Brown and Senator Simeon D. Fess were among national leaders present.

Lewis was chosen after a fight that deadlocked the convention and in which the past custom of allowing the gubernatorial candidate to name his own State manager was cast aside. David S. Ingalls, candidate for governor, had advocated the selection of his primary manager, Earle S. Johnson, but Lewis was picked because the Hoover administration wanted one man to handle both the State and national campaigns in Ohio, observers believed.

3 Injured as Tornado Hits Blacksville, S. C.

Blackville, S. C., July 15 (A.P.).—Three persons were injured, twenty stores and two homes were unroofed, stocks in practically every store in town were damaged and the streets littered with trees and debris by a tornado that struck here late today. The three injured persons were cut by flying glass.

Officials Warned of Crisis Over Brutality in Dry Raids

Chamber of New York Town Says Death and Bloodshed Is Threatened Unless Methods Are Changed; Investigation Already Ordered by Woodcock.

Alexandria Bay, N. Y., July 15 (A.P.).—The chamber of commerce today informed officials at Washington that a "serious situation resulting in possible death and bloodshed will result inside of 48 hours if something is not done" about methods used in prohibition raids here.

The protest of the chamber went to Treasury Secretary Ogden L. Mills, Commissioner Woodcock of the prohibition service, Senators Royal S. Copeland and Robert F. Wagner and Representatives Bertrand H. Snell and Francis D. Culkin.

The lagislators immediately asked Mr. Woodcock for action. He already had ordered Andrew McCampbell, State administrator of prohibition, to proceed to Alexandria Bay for the inquiry.

The chamber's telegram read:

"For the second time in two days prohibition officers from Syracuse office have raided village in spectacular manner, first time spoiling Spanish War veterans' convention assembled here and causing riot. The raids carried out in the most brutal fashion, doors being bursted down without cause, furniture broken, two people knocked down and seriously injured, and violence provoked by officers.

"Would request all possible efforts on your part to secure enforcement of Nation's laws on manner suitable to the dignity of the Government and according to the Constitution of the United States and the Bill of Rights. Serious situation resulting in possible death and bloodshed will result inside of 48 hours if something is not done."

On Tuesday, when the first raids were made, a mob of 100 persons attacked two of the raiders on the street, and beat them and kicked them. State troopers escorted the men out of the village in a Federal car whose tires had been slashed by the attackers.

Last night Ross Visger, 45, and Cora Bradley, hotel maid, were caught between automobiles allegedly used in two more prohibition raids. Visger was believed to be injured internally and the maid was bruised and cut. As a result of the incident, Federal Agent Burke Dornemann, of the Syracuse office, was arrested and charged with a highway law violation.

DRY CHIEFTAINS FAIL TO INDORSE ANY CANDIDATES

But Urge Vote for Those "Who Think Prohibition Ought to Be Law."

COLVIN BOLTS GROUP TO FORM ARID TICKET

National Board of Strategy Cites Nominees' Records of 2 Major Parties.

(Associated Press.)

The national prohibition board of strategy yesterday urged its member organizations to support "those candidates who believe that prohibition ought to be the law."

This advice was contained in a summation of campaign policy drafted by a subcommittee and approved by the board.

Appended was a resume of the record of the Republican and Democratic nominees for the Presidency and Vice Presidency with quoted utterances from them on the prohibition question.

It refrained from indorsing specifically any candidates. Behind this lay an effort on the part of one group within the board to have it declare at once for the reelection of President Hoover. This proposal was rejected by a vote of the board when offered as an amendment to the subcommittee's statement.

D. Leigh Colvin Resigns.

The policy declaration set forth a belief that the question of retaining, modifying or repealing the prohibition amendment should be settled by the votes of the people, "in senatorial, congressional and legislative elections."

Asserting the resume of President Hoover's record made him out to be dryer than was warranted, D. Leigh Colvin, national chairman of the Prohibition party, resigned from the board of strategy. He is pushing actively plans to put a strong, nationally known bone-dry third party ticket into the field.

Discussion which preceded adoption of the statement revealed three divergent views. One group held for the policy finally approved. A second, led by Oliver W. Stewart, of the flying squadron, urged immediate indorsement of President Hoover. A third, including Bishop James Cannon, jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance Prohibition and Public Morals North, held that a declaration for Mr. Hoover should be deferred until he utters his personal views on repeal.

Text of Statement.

The text of the board's statement follows:

"We favor the retention of the eighteenth amendment unchanged. We are opposed to any modification

New Figure Enters Reynolds Murder

Sheriff Seeks Man Who Asked Directions to Scene of Crime.

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 15 (A. P.).—An unidentified man who asked directions for reaching the Reynolds home a few hours before the fatal shooting of Smith Reynolds, 20-year-old heir to millions and husband of Libby Holman, the actress, was sought today by Sheriff Transou Scott.

Pursuing his investigation in an effort to determine how the youngest son of R. J. Reynolds, the late tobacco king, met death July 6, the sheriff said he had obtained "new evidence" since adjournment of the coroner's jury. A verdict of death by a gunshot wound inflicted by a person or persons unknown was returned after the inquest.

Scott said he had been informed of the stranger's request for directions by two Winston-Salem citizens, who told him the man had a traveling case in the rear of his automobile. He expressed the opinion it was merely one of the guests invited for the evening.

3 Federal Dry Agents Face Assault Charges

Warrants charging three Federal dry agents with assault with a deadly weapon have been sworn out by Wallace and Mollie Clark, of La Plata, following the arrest of Wallace Clark on charges of assaulting a Federal officer. The agents are said to have stopped to fill their radiator at Clark's well, when he objected to their using a bucket nearby and the scrimmage started.

The agents named in the warrants are R. A. Brantley, L. G. Mitchell and Thomas Allen. They have not yet been arrested, according to Magistrate R. Lee Reich, who issued the warrants.

CONGRESS READY TO QUIT TODAY AS RELIEF ADVANCES

Inflation Row Balking Home Banking Bill

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover's last major request of Congress—the home loan bank bill—last night was deadlocked in conference by a money-expansion quarrel.

It was sent back there after the House approved all provisions of a conference report essential to creating the new Federal banking system, but rejected, 215 to 126, a proposal by Chairman Steagall of the banking committee to accept the Glass billion dollar currency expansion plan with the Goldsborough price stabilization bill included.

The Senate then told its conferees to insist on the Glass provision.

Before the vote, Representative McFadden (Republican), Pennsylvania, one of the conferees, told the House the conference had been advised "that the President would not sign this bill if the Goldsborough bill is in it."

Chairman Norbeck (Republican), South Dakota, of the Senate conferees, said if the disagreement were not ironed out today and a vote had during the day, the bill would die in conference as they did not think it likely Congress would remain in session to dispose of it.

POLITICAL ORATORY ENLIVENS SENATE

Gallery Crowds Are Treated to Field Day of Campaign Hot Shots.

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

Campaign oratory enlivened the Senate chamber yesterday as the curtain began descending on the first session of the Seventy-second Congress.

The highlight so far as the galleries were concerned came when Senator Pat Harrison (Democrat), Mississippi, asked Senator Hamilton Kean (Republican), New Jersey, whether he thought President Hoover would sign a beer bill.

"I hope so," said the wet Mr. Kean.

"But," persisted Mr. Harrison, "does the senator believe he would?"

"I do," said Mr. Kean.

"Then," said Mr. Harrison, "the senator is a living curiosity of Republican optimism."

A wave of laughter swept the galleries. Vice President Curtis, who was feeling a bit irritable anyway because of the furore over the Marines landing at the Capitol, banged his gavel hard, and threatened to clear the galleries unless the laughter ceased.

The incident made Pat Harrison and the other Democrats feel pretty good, and, in a measure, took the curse off the Democratic vote against beer the other day.

The day of oratory in the upper House was started by Senator Joe T. Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, who tore into the "three musketeers of the Hoover administration"—Secretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, and Secretary of Agriculture Arthur Hyde.

Evidently the partisan spirit was contagious, for even Senator Reed Smoot (Republican), of Utah, who rarely makes a speech of any sort, ultimately got into the fray, delivering a long oration in defense of Pres-

Waterway Inquiry Ordered by Senate

St. Lawrence Treaty Probe Undertaken to Aid Work, Borah Explains.

(Associated Press.)

The Senate yesterday approved an investigation by its foreign relations committee of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty between the United States and Canada. The resolution was by Chairman Borah (Republican), of Idaho.

Mr. Borah's plan is to have most of the preliminary committee work needed on a treaty done when that paper, still to be signed, is presented for ratification. This will expedite ratification immeasurably and make possible beginning of work on the mammoth project, linking the Great Lakes to the ocean, far sooner.

Mr. Borah was careful to point out to newspapermen that the inquiry would not be "based on suspicion."

"It is a question of seeking information so that when the Senate returns in the fall it will have the full facts when it considers ratification," he said.

Hoover, Agreeing to Sign Bill, Ends Deadlock.

PUBLICITY WON ON R. F. C. LOANS

Report Approved After Senate Yields to House.

(Associated Press.)

By pushing the relief bill to within one step of completion, Congress last night virtually had cleared the decks for final adjournment some time late today.

Barring only a filibuster at the last moment, Republican and Democratic leaders on both sides were certain they would ring down the curtain on this eventful and long-drawn-out session within another day.

The relief bill, assured of President Hoover's signature, despite presence in it of a clause requiring publicity on all loans to be made by the Reconstruction Corporation, even to banks, lacked only final approval of the Senate.

A deadlock in the conference between the two houses broke up early in the day—as soon, in fact, as assurance came that the President would sign the bill. The senators then yielded to the insistent House demand for the publicity clause.

Decision by Hoover.

The House then approved the conference report, 286 to 48, and sent the measure to the Senate Chamber. There it was permitted to lie without action until today.

The Senate was busy with preparations for the adjournment. Long speeches, mostly political in character, were made. Authority was given for inquiries during the summer, and then Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, brought in a resolution for adjournment at close of business today. It went over for last-moment action.

The break in the relief deadlock came suddenly yesterday when President Hoover called the five senators who have been negotiating differences with the House to the White House and told them his decision.

Letter to Conferees.

He expressed opposition to the House provision in the bill for publicity on all future loans by the Reconstruction Corporation, but said if the House would not yield he would sign the measure and let Congress take the responsibility.

Later in the day the Reconstruction Corporation sent a letter to the conferees stating:

"Such a provision is against the public interest and may result in irreparable damage. No one can contend that the publication of the names of the 3,600 banks that have borrowed from this corporation will tend to strengthen their position.

"In the opinion of the board, this provision, if enacted into law, would undo much that has been accomplished by this corporation in preserving the credit structure of the Nation and, in a large measure, restrict its usefulness in the future."

House Wins Point.

They recommended but to no avail, that a congressional committee be set up to investigate its books at all times. The House insistence upon the language of the publicity provision was absolute.

As finally agreed upon the bill bears the general outline of the measure drawn up by Senate Democrats weeks ago and approved by the Senate at that time.

It provides an emergency fund of $300,000,000 for immediate relief loans to States and municipalities upon the basis of need; a $322,000,000 public construction program and an expansion of $1,500,000,000 in the Reconstruction Corporation's capital to make loans encouraging employment.

BORAH IS INSISTENT AGAINST 3D TICKET

Prohibition Party Chairman Still Hopes for Change in Senator's Stand.

(Associated Press.)

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, stated definitely yesterday that he is not and never has been a candidate for a third party presidential nomination, but those wishing him to lead the Prohibition party refused to accept this as ending their hopes.

In fact, D. Leigh Colvin, chairman of the Prohibition party, said a movement was under way to create a greater party with Mr. Borah for President at the head of its ticket and a platform giving equal prominence to economic issues and the liquor question.

Mr. Colvin has been trying for weeks, without success, to persuade Mr. Borah to accept the Prohibition party's nomination.

At the recent convention at Indianapolis, former Representative William D. Upshaw, of Georgia, was nominated, but he stands ready to step down for Mr. Borah.

The senator made his statement yesterday after a conference with Mr. Colvin and other Prohibition leaders here for the meeting of the National Prohibition Board of Strategy.

"Mr. Borah, of course, is not a candidate and is not seeking anything," Mr. Colvin said. "But there is a tremendous demand for him, and I believe that developments of the next few weeks may bring news."

Harrison Pledges Vote For Prohibition Repeal

(Associated Press.)

Senator Harrison (Democrat), Mississippi, said yesterday on the Senate floor that he was for the prohibition plank adopted by the Democratic convention.

The Mississippi senator told his colleagues that he had supported at Chicago a plank calling for resubmission of the prohibition question to the people.

"But now that a repeal plank has been adopted," Mr. Harrison said, "I will give it my support. I did not want to go that far, but I am for it."

Treaty Probe Plan Pleases Roosevelt

Is Gratified at Borah Move to Investigate Power Project Pact.

Marblehead, Mass., July 15 (A.P.).—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt tonight, in an ocean interview, expressed his pleasure with the news that Senator Borah today had pushed through a resolution to look into the St. Lawrence waterways treaty negotiations.

Talking with newspapermen across 50 feet of water as he maneuvered his yawl Myth II toward this harbor, the Democratic presidential nominee also said he would make no campaign appointments until after he had returned to Albany.

Completing one of the longest legs of the voyage up the New England Coast, the governor and his party planned to stay in Marblehead Harbor tonight after a 55-mile trip from Marion, where he remained last night.

$12,000,000 Flagler Fund Involved in Suit

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Scott M. Loftin, receiver for the Florida East Coast Railway Co., filed suit in Supreme Court today to compel the trustees of the estate of the late Henry M. Flagler to save the railway from going on the block.

He sought a court order directing William R. Kenan, jr., and Lawrence C. Haines, trustees under the will of Mrs. Mary Lily Flagler Bingham, the widow, to use the income from a $12,000,000 trust fund established by her to pay interest defaults on a bond issue.

Thousands Cheer as Rail Line Is Opened in Texas

Pampa, Tex., July 15 (A.P.).—Amid scenes of rejoicing, the Fort Worth & Denver Northern Railway, a new line between Childress and Pampa, 110 miles long, was opened formally today.

Thousands cheered as two special trains from Childress, bearing Gov. R. S. Sterling, members of the Texas Railroad Commission and officials of the Burlington System, rolled into town. It was the biggest celebration in Pampa since the oil boom.

LEAGUE GROUP TAKES PARLEY SPONSORSHIP

two months ago and action on it was deferred indefinitely.

The debate today disclosed rivalry between the Lausanne inviting powers and the other nations represented on the league council over the direction of the conference. But each faction was willing that the League of Nations shoulder the expenses.

Successful conclusion of concerted financial operations for the reconstruction of Austria was reported to the council by a mixed committee dealing with that problem.

An international loan of 300,000,000 schillings (currently $42,000,000) has been arranged, to which France and Britain will subscribe 100,000,000 schillings each. This action was interpreted as a practical manifestation of the new-born Franco-British accord.

The disarmament conference is marking time pending the arrival Monday of Premier Edouard Herriot and War Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour of France. Private conversations will be started then to determine the final form of the German declaration to be made by the British Foreign Secretary.

The American delegation is prepared to present a substitute declaration if Sir John Simon's does not contain sufficient indorsement of President Hoover's proposals calling for one-third disarmament throughout the world.

World Has Many Shows; Some Big Ones Are Here

By JOHN J. DALY

WE may be straightened for earth to live upon, but earth sufficient to die upon can never be wanting, as Boiocatus answered the Romans.

Only one door in life, there are a million ways out, as there are a thousand avenues out of difficulties; for, as Cowper wrote, "The darkest day, live tomorrow, will have passed away."

There is only one world, but it offers a hundred thousand shows going on at the same time—from Dan to Beersheba.

If life depends upon the pleasures and discretions of others, life is what they make it for us; but life is not always like that. It is often what we make it for ourselves, which is why the European governments getting together on any sort of pact must finally consult with old Uncle Sam, who has a way and a will of his own; especially on the war debts. It is also why President Hoover may send to Senator Borah, as he did, this cryptic message, outlining the American position: "I do not propose that the American people shall be pressed into any line of action or that our policies shall be in any way influenced by such a combination, either open or implied."

* * * *

THE world is full of these examples, of independent thinking and independent action, come what may.

All is not quiet, and probably never will be, on the western or the eastern fronts. When there is a lull in one sector, action breaks forth in another:

Veterans gathering around the Capitol, like kids around an ice wagon; the President of the Irish Free State going over to meet the prime minister of England; the House and the Senate conferees at grips on the unemployment relief bill; the guns of the coming campaign starting to boom. It is like the big show, watching the ringmaster at the circus direct attention to the next great act:

"Ladies and Gentlemen, Ringbros and Barnum and Bailey, the Greatest Show on Earth, presents for your approval the Japanese trapeze artists, walking the tight rope; the Chinese magicians turning the old walled city into a camp of communism; the Italian band playing for a European concerted move at Lausanne; the Marines called out and the Marines sent home; the situation well in hand."

All the inconveniences in the world are not considerable enough to make a man miss the Big Show, with something doing every moment under the Big Top.

The Little Red Wagon days are over.

DRY BOARD OF STRATEGY FAILS TO INDORSE ANY CANDIDATES

or amendment which would remove the brand of the criminal from the traffic in beverage intoxicants and which would legalize that traffic in any form.

"We fully agree that the question of prohibition should be settled by the votes of the people, who under the Constitution have the right to vote in the election of senators, congressmen and legislators which officers after election are charged with the power to vote for or against the submission or ratification of amendments to the Constitution.

"The eighteenth amendment was embodied in the organic law by the votes of senators, congressmen and State legislators, all elected by the people in the constitutional manner.

"Serious Obligation."

"The question of the retention, modification or repeal of the eighteenth amendment should likewise be determined by vote of the people in senatorial, congressional and legislative elections.

"We urge our people to meet unwaveringly the serious obligation which has been thrust upon them in the coming election for President, Vice President, senators, congressmen, governors and State legislators by voting for those candidates who believe that prohibition ought to be the law and by opposing openly and vigorously the proposals which have been made for modification or repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the weakening of the Volstead act.

"That our people may have clear, definite information as to the attitude on prohibition of all candidates for President, Vice President, senator, congressman and State legislator, we strongly advise that the record and present attitude of all such candidates on the question of submission, modification or repeal of the eighteenth amendment or the weakening of the Volstead act or of the State prohibition enforcement laws be secured and published, in order that the position of such candidates may be clearly indicated in present and future elections.

Declarations and Attitude.

"It may be taken for granted that as a result of the 1932 general election, either the Republican or Democratic candidates for President and Vice President will be elected. We, therefore, present herewith the record, public declarations and attitudes of the candidates of those parties for President and Vice President:

"Herbert Hoover. While Secretary of Commerce he said: 'There can be no doubt of the economic benefits of prohibition. Viewing the temperance question only from this angle, prohibition has proved its case.'

"In his speech of acceptance at Palo Alto, Calif., on August 11, 1928, he said:

"'I do not favor the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. I stand for the efficient enforcement of the laws enacted thereunder. Whoever is chosen President has under his oath the solemn duty to pursue this course.

"Noble in Motive."

"'Our country has deliberately undertaken a great social and economic experiment, noble in motive and far-reaching in purpose. It must be worked out constructively.

"'Modification of the enforcement laws which permit that which the Constitution forbids is nullification. This the American people will not countenance. Change in the Constitution can and must be brought about only by the straight-forward methods provided in the Constitution itself.

"'There are those who do not believe in the purposes of several provisions of the Constitution. No one denied their right to seek to amend it. They are not subject to criticism for asserting that right.'

"In his inaugural address, March 4, 1929, discussing disrespect and disobedience of laws, he said:

"'It is only in part due to the additional burdens imposed upon our judicial system by the eighteenth amendment. The problem is much wider than that. Many influences had increasingly complicated and weakened our law-enforcement organization long before the adoption of the eighteenth amendment. * * * It must not come to be in our republic that it can be defeated by the indifference of the citizen, by exploitation of the delays and entanglements of the law, or by combinations of criminals.

Enforcement Responsibility.

"'Of the undoubted abuses which have grown up under the eighteenth amendment, part are due to the causes I have just mentioned; but part are due to the failure of some States to accept their share of the responsibility for concurrent enforcement and to the failure of many State and local officials to accept the obligation under their oath of office zealously to enforce the laws.'

"In sending to Congress the Wickersham report, January 20, 1931, he said:

"'The commission, by a large majority, does not favor the repeal of the eighteenth amendment as a method of cure for the inherent abuses of the liquor traffic. I am in accord with this view. I am in unity with the spirit of the report in seeking constructive steps to advance the national ideal of eradication of the social and economic and political evils of this traffic, to preserve the gains which have been made, and to eliminate the abuses which exist, at the same time facing with an open mind the difficulties which have arisen under this experiment. I do, however, see serious objections to, and therefore must not be understood as recommending, the commission's proposed revision of the eighteenth amendment, which is suggested by them for possible consideration at some future time if the continued effort at enforcement should not prove successful. My own duty and that of all executive officials is clear—to enforce the law with all the means at our disposal without equivocation or reservation.'

Further Views Anticipated.

"In his acceptance speech he will doubtless deal further with this subject.

"During the Presidency of Mr. Hoover, Federal enforcement of the prohibition laws has steadily advanced and has attained a higher degree of efficiency than in any other period since the adoption of the eighteenth amendment.

"Charles Curtis. An active participant, in the fight for local and later National prohibition since 1885. He has announced no change from the position he took in January 25, 1928, when in a letter addressed to Senator Borah, he wrote:

"'I, personally, favor a plank referring to the eighteenth amendment and the laws enacted to carry it into effect, and I favor a plank pledging the nominee to a fair, vigorous and faithful enforcement of them. In my opinion it is the greatest moral issue of all ages and public sentiment demands that both of the political parties declare themselves unequivocally upon it.'

Opposed to State Clause.

"Adding:

"'I am opposed to a policy which will allow any State to determine for itself the alcoholic content of beverages to be manufactured, sold and transported throughout the country, but I believe the States should join with the officers of the United States in enforcing the laws of Congress, as was contemplated by the constitutional amendment.'

"In his speech of acceptance, August 19, 1928, he referred to his past record, saying, 'My own record shows clearly that I believe in and practice enforcement of the law,' adding, 'Not only am I heartily in favor of faithfully enforcing all of our laws, but further, I am opposed to the repeal of the eighteenth amendment or of the Volstead act.' This position he repeatedly emphasized during the 1928 campaign.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt. On October 25, 1928, he declared, concerning the reenactment of the State enforcement act repealed several years earlier.

"'There is no practical advantage in enacting another Mullan-Gage law as a part of the statutes of New York. That is the way I feel about it. That is where I stand.'

Indorsed Repeal Plank.

"On September 9, 1930, as a candidate for reelection as Governor of New York, he declared that he indorsed the Democratic State platform of 1928, which platform favors repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

"On March 31, 1931, he signed a bill requesting Congress to call a national constitutional convention to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

"In his acceptance speech at the Chicago convention, July 2, 1932, he said:

"'This convention wants repeal. Your candidate wants repeal, and I am confident that the United States of America wants repeal, * * * I say to you now that from this date on the eighteenth amendment is doomed.'

"He further said:

"'That admirable document, the platform which you have adopted, is clear. I accept it 100 per cent,' which includes his indorsement of all the provisions of the Democratic convention plank on prohibition.

Resume of Garner's Record.

"John N. Garner. As a member of the United States Congress he voted for the Webb-Kenyon bill; against the Jones-Works District of Columbia bill; for the Alaska prohibition bill; for the Jones-Randall bill; against the Sheppard District of Columbia prohibition bill; against the prohibition food control bill; for the proposed Igoe amendment to the Volstead act; for the Volstead act, but is recorded as not voting for the act over the President's veto.

"He summed up his present position and past record on June 21, 1932, by giving to the press this brief statement:

"'When the prohibition amendment was proposed, I, as a member of Congress, voted against it.

"'I have never believed it sound or workable, and it should be repealed.'

COMMISSARY ABUSE HEARING SCHEDULED

New Competition Charge Testimony to Be Taken at Kansas City.

(Associated Press.)

Chairman Shannon announced yesterday the special House committee investigating the Government's business activities in competition to private trade would open hearings in Kansas City Monday and probably in New Orleans later.

The Missouri Democrat said if sufficient funds were available the committee would inquire into the activities of Army and Navy commissaries on the West Coast and their effect on private business.

"The clamor for the Government to keep out of business in competition with private trade is increasing," Mr. Shannon said: "Hundreds of merchants have informed me of the cut-rate prices commissaries are allowing private citizens, which were set up originally for enlisted men in the Army and Navy."

The special committee was created by the House and was given $5,000 with which to make the investigation.

Representative Shannon said that Representatives Pettengill, of Indiana, and Cox, of Georgia, Democrats, would be present at the Kansas City hearings.

A larger number of witnesses from Fort Leavenworth and Fort Riley, Kans., and from Lawton, Okla., where Fort Sill is located, are to be heard at the Kansas City hearing.

Mrs. Caraway Wants "Old-Time Campaign"

Hot Springs, Ark., July 15 (A.P.).—In this day of political speechmaking by radio and a lack of flowery oratory, Senator Hattie W. Caraway, of Arkansas, comes forth with the intimation she favors the old-style campaign exhortation.

"I don't believe I'll make very many long, set speeches, but you may yet see me flailing my arms around and shouting," she told newspapermen here today as she completed plans for her forthcoming campaign. She was silent on reports from Washington that Senator Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, might come to Arkansas, if invited, to campaign in her behalf. She wouldn't say whether she would or would not invite him.

Burns Received Aboard Warship Fatal to Man

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Arthur Myers, 25, a quartermaster, second class, in the Navy, died late yesterday in the Brooklyn Navy Yard Hospital of burns received aboard the destroyer Bainbridge, it was learned today.

Officials of the navy yard said they had not yet received a report on the accident. The officer of the deck aboard the Bainbridge said information would have to come from the captain, who was not aboard this morning. The body of Myers is to be sent to his home at Carlisle, Pa.

Farms Proving Greater Attractions Than Cities

(Associated Press.)

The call of the soil and other reasons drew 252,000 more city folks to the farm last year than moved to the city.

Statistics made public yesterday by the Department of Agriculture showed that 1,472,000 persons left the farms for towns and cities and that 1,679,000 moved farmward.

The farm population on January 1, 1932, was 31,260,000, as compared with 30,612,000 at the beginning of 1931. Births account for the increase over and above those moving back to the country.

The department described the increase as the "largest and most significant" in the ten years that population changes have been estimated.

ident Hoover, his policies and his record.

Then came the colloquy between Senators Harrison and Kean.

Considered in connection with the 1932 campaign, the speech of Senator Robinson was important in two respects:

First, it revealed the argument that is to be used by the Democrats in warding off Republican attacks on their vice presidential nominee, Speaker John N. Garner, in connection with the relief bill fight.

Second, it indicated that the Democrats propose to raise the war debt question in the campaign and to accuse President Hoover of favoring a reduction of the debts.

Robinson on War Debts.

Senator Robinson, in replying to the Republican charge that Speaker Garner would put the Government in business by creating innumerable small agencies of the Finance Reconstruction Corporation, held that the Hoover administration already has invaded the private field on an unprecedented scale. He cited the activities of the Finance Corporation, the Federal Farm Board and other undertakings sponsored by the President.

With respect to war debts, Senator Robinson had this to say:

"Frankly it seems to me that the policy of the administration has meant a revision of the foreign debts."

No other conclusion, he said, was possible in view of the President's recommendation last winter for a revival of the World War debt commission. This recommendation, incidentally, was one of the few made by the President which was turned down.

"I do not understand," said Robinson, "what would be the advantages of reviving the commission unless something of that nature were in contemplation."

Holds Hyde "Best Absent."

Senator Robinson criticized the "three musketeers"—Secretaries Mills, Hurley and Hyde—for "running around the country denouncing the Democrats" when they were supposed to be at work here. He conceded, however, that the Department of Agriculture was just as well off with Secretary Hyde absent.

But Secretary Mills, he said, ought to stay at his Treasury post and keep an eye on the $2,900,000,000 deficit.

Referring to Secretary Hurley's Columbus speech, in which it was asserted that Franklin D. Roosevelt was trying to bring about a "new deal" by dealing from the old pack used by William Jennings Bryan, Senator Robinson said:

"Do these three musketeers," he asked, "insist on playing the game with marked cards? Plainly there is a widespread demand for a change in the political policies of our Government. Every possible effort is being made by these Cabinet officers to discredit the Democratic platform and the Democratic candidates."

Smoot's Tariff Address.

Senator Smoot devoted the greater part of his speech to a defense of the Republican tariff law which he helped write and to a denunciation of the Democratic policy of lowering tariffs in concert with other nations. The Democratic plan, he said, was a silly "pipe dream."

"No nation can be allowed to dictate what our tariffs should be," said Smoot. "When Congress once more undertakes to revise the tariff, it should be in response to a demand from Americans and not foreign interests."

The Utah senator said that the discordance among the Democrats on the tariff question was well illustrated by the fact that a score or so of Democrats recently voted for coal, oil, copper and lumber tariffs.

Senator Harrison's principal object was to neutralize the damage done his party by Senator Hiram Bingham, of Connecticut, who, the other day, forced a showdown on beer and revealed that the Democrats were two to one against it, although their platform promised "immediate" modification. Senator Harrison declared openly that the Democrats were not pressing for prohibition action now because they wanted the benefit of the issue in November. He promised that once the party was in power, it would move swiftly to carry out its pledges.

MRS. SABIN SCORES G.O.P. LIQUOR PLANK

Former Republican Official Denounces It as Fraud and Deception.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—The Republican prohibition plank was denounced as a "fraud and deception" tonight by Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, the Nation's most active woman antiprohibitionist.

"Even the magic wand of the distinguished Secretary of the Treasury can not transform it into a repeal plank," the former Republican national committeewoman told a Democratic rally on Long Island.

As head of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, Mrs. Sabine took the stump to analyze the prohibition stands of the two major parties in their 1932 platforms. She charged the Republicans with "a desperate endeavor to compromise the issue;" with "complete contradictions;" with "an open invitation for all fanatics and hypocritical drys to keep the pot boiling in the House and Senate."

After a brief analysis of the Democratic plank, she said:

"In other words, the Democratic party believes that the people of the several States can be trusted."

Indiana Primary Victor Upheld by Vote Recount

Hammond, Ind., July 15 (A.P.).—William T. Schulte, of Hammond, was declared the Democratic nominee for Congress in the First Indiana District, the special board of canvassers announcing today that a recount showed him the victor by more than 350 votes. His plurality on the first count was 327.

The recount was conducted on behalf of Frank R. Martin, of Hammond, defeated candidate and former chairman of the Democratic county central committee, who charged fraud and errors in the counting of ballots.

Fugitive From Prison 19 Years Is Given Freedom

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—William H. Collins, escaped California convict, was given his unconditional freedom today after 19 years as a fugitive.

Supreme Court Justice Edward S. Dore released him in accordance with a letter he received from Warden James Holohan of San Quentin, California prison, saying no effort would be made to extradite the prisoner because of his good record. Collins fled San Quentin in 1913 while serving a term for a holdup on a street car.

Lowson Attacks Leader of Party

Expelled Capital Man Lays "Forgery" to Harrop, Farmer-Laborite.

Omaha, July 15 (A.P.).—Frank Lowson, of Washington, D. C., former chairman of the Farmer-Labor party's platform committee, whose expulsion from the party was announced Sunday by Roy M. Harrop, chairman of the executive committee, today retaliated with a series of charges against Harrop. The charges were contained in a letter sent members of the executive committee.

He asserted that the Farmer-Labor platform as printed and distributed by Harrop had been "forged" and was a "spurious news bulletin edition." He compared the "original" platform with the one distributed by the national committee and showed where it allegedly differed in a dozen places.

Coincident with receipt of the latter, Harrop announced that "General" Jacob S. Coxey, new presidential candidate of the party, would arrive August 6 to begin a speaking tour of Nebraska.

Frenchman Urges Referenda on War

Has Support of 70 of His Colleagues and Many Organizations.

Paris, July 15 (A.P.).—No more general mobilizations and no more wars by nations unless the people themselves authorize them by national referendum, is the object of a resolution introduced in the Chamber of Deputies for the purpose of putting teeth in the Briand-Kellogg peace pact.

The author of the resolution, Leon Abrami, Independent Radical and former undersecretary for war, declared tonight his project already had the support of 70 of his colleagues as well as associations of former soldiers, workers and intellectuals. The resolution invites France to have the League of Nations ask its members and the signatories to the Briand-Kellogg pact to insert provisions in their constitutions interdicting mobilization or war unless their people, both men and women, approve by a two-thirds vote.

The only exceptions in which a referendum would not be necessary would be when a nation was a victim of general mobilization or attack, or was acting in behalf of the League of Nations.

Hutton Denies Sale Of Angelus Temple

Suspended Attaches Make Threats of Exposing "Poor-Box Thefts."

Los Angeles, July 14 (A.P.).—David Hutton, husband of Aimee McPherson Hutton, the evangelist, denied today reports that she might sell Angelus Temple.

Simultaneously reports were circulated that a group of employes involved in alleged discrepancies were ready to reveal a series of unusual occurrences in some temple affairs to T. J. Moore, auditor-investigator of the city social service department.

Roy A. Watkins, a temple investigator whose dismissal has been asked by the board of elders, alleged he had evidence "that temple employes were stealing Aimee blind."

"We had a group of prominent movie stars at the temple one night," Watkins said. "I saw them put rolls of bills into the barrel provided for poor relief. Elated over the contributions, I went and told Aimee. She, too, was pleased. In a few minutes we opened the collection barrel—it contained only $1.25."

ARGENTINA-URUGUAY EARLY ACCORD SEEN

Latter Nation Votes to Erect Monument in Honor of Former in Capital.

Montevideo, Uruguay, July 15 (U.P.).—The Chamber of Deputies voted with an overwhelming majority today to erect a monument in honor of Argentina in the Montevideo plaza, thus presaging an early settlement of the diplomatic incident which Wednesday resulted in Uruguay's severing relations with Argentina. Meanwhile Great Britain assumed charge of Argentina's affairs here and the United States embassy agreed to look after Uruguay's interests in Buenos Aires.

Newspapers were warned by the chief of police against inflaming public sentiment against the neighboring republic. Reports that Foreign Minister Carlos Blanco would resign because of criticism of his precipitate action in breaking diplomatic relations with Argentina because of alleged unfriendly acts toward the officers of the cruiser Uruguay while the vessel was in Buenos Aires Harbor last week were denied at the presidency and foreign office.

Buenos Aires, July 15 (U.P.).—Considerable surprise was voiced in all quarters here today on publication of a Geneva report in which League of Nations officials expressed the belief that the Argentine-Uruguayan diplomatic incident might develop into a dangerous situation.

Public reaction here toward the rupture has been one of peaceful expectation that the affair would quickly blow over. Colombia and Brazil were mentioned as possible mediators for a renewal of relations.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

DEPRESSION: SUNNYSIDE UP.

WHY so much complaining about a depression? There's a lot to be said in its favor. This sounds goofy at first thought, but just consider its good points:

It's made it possible for you to fight for the dinner check and not feel hurt even if you get it.

You can drive down to the station in a flivver to meet house guests without inviting comment.

It's demonstrated that humanity in general is better than it is cracked up to be (once it has been well cracked up), and that the average man shows to better advantage going against the tide than he is riding the waves.

It has demonstrated that there are people in the world who will spend an evening with you even if you have no wine cellar.

The tooting of the big limousine behind your little runabout has become less imperious.

The fellow behind isn't making such an indignant demand that slow-moving traffic get over and allow faster moving cars to pass.

The landlord has pulled in his horns, put some felt slippers over his hooves and become quite human.

He takes the news that you can't pay the rent without raising a riot, and he even asks if he can't paint the kitchen and fix that leak in the sink.

Sheriffs have turned soft and are apologizing when they throw the piano out onto the sidewalk.

The country club president has had his eyebrows lowered and will not only tolerate a new member, but try to make him feel comfortable on club premises.

You can find plenty of people to play golf with who will not try to sell you anything.

It has brought back a grocery bill that can be taken without an anaesthetic.

It has reduced by 75 per cent the number of American homes broken up by arguments over whether to hold the stock until it reaches 300 or take the 80-point profit now.

The summer hotel clerk no longer puts the chill on you when you suggest that $25 a day is too much for a cubbyhole over the garage.

You can get a table near a window in any restaurant.

You can be seen mowing your own lawn, repairing a screen door or painting the front steps without being passed up as socially impossible by all the neighbors.

It no longer causes gossip at the bank if you are seen washing your own automobile.

Nobody thinks it funny if you live with your wife.

You can bet a dime on any poker hand and go berserk in a telephone booth when your dime isn't returned without being thought erratic.

You can actually find people who are not only willing but happy to talk of things more interesting and important than money, outdoor swimming pools, twelve-cylinder motors and yachting equipment.

You can admit in any company that you don't know a thing about high finance without being passed up as a nincompoop.

You can get a haircut without any stock market tips.

A BATHING BEAUTY SPEAKS.

When I stroll on a bathing beach
Clad in those suits of white,
So thin, abbreviated and
So very short and tight,
The thought goes flitting through my head—
It strikes you, too, of course—
I'd have a swell Godiva act
If I but had a horse!

"The salaries of all railroad presidents except that of Mr. Pelley, of the New Haven Road, have been cut. Mr. Pelley has been given an increase to $90,000 from $75,000."—News item. Mr. Pelley evidently didn't hear the whistle.

Add similes: As dejected as a suit presser in a nudist cult.

BUT $10,000,000 IS LOT OF MONEY.

Charlie Chaplin is worth $10,000,000. And still, as a careful student of his screen appearance, we wouldn't care to be in his shoes.

NEW BRAZIL BATTLE CONTRADICTS PEACE

Four Wounded After Report Rebels Were Persuaded to Give Up.

Rio de Janeiro, July 15 (A.P.).—Despite reports that peace between Provisional President Getulio Vargas, and rebels in his native State of Sao Paulo, was about to be effected, dispatches from the south today told of a battle in which four rebels were wounded.

This was the first actual military contact between the loyal federal troops of the president and the rebels, and further reports during the day indicated that federal planes had bombed the rebel positions in northern Sao Paulo.

The skirmish occurred at Itatiaya, and was between the vanguard of the Third Infantry under Capt. Zenobio Costa, and a small detail of the Sao Paulista.

The two detachments opened fire on sight, and after a short and hot set-to, the rebels retreated, leaving four wounded behind them.

These two brushes would seem to conflict with reports that the federal governors of the States of Matto Grosso and Menas Geraes, had persuaded the rebel leaders to lay down their arms.

Arlington County Democrats Meet

Mr. Bragg says he has been in communication with the chairman of the State central committee and has been authorized to proceed with any type of campaign considered best suited for Arlington County.

The committee, Mr. Bragg says, proposes to leave no stone unturned in bringing Arlington County back into the Democratic column with the other counties in the State in November.

ARLINGTON'S ROAD STAND IS DEFENDED

Supporter of Byrd Plan Is Answered by Pointing Out of MacDonald View.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Answering attacks on Arlington County's road administration made by J. L. Harrison, of East Falls Church, an engineer in the United States Bureau of Public Roads, the special committee of the Arlington County Civic Federation, appointed to carry on that body's campaign for withdrawing from the Byrd road plan, last night issued a statement quoting Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the Federal Road Bureau and Mr. Harrison's superior officer, as questioning the wisdom of the policy, so far as the large States are concerned, of the State administering county roads.

The Federal road chief's statement, from which the committee quotes, is from an address made by that official at a highway meeting held in Atlantic City February 18. At that time, Mr. MacDonald, according to the committee's statement quoting from the official copy of the address, said: "I can see no good reason, and some disadvantages, for the large States to take over all road administration at the present time, since it will be much better for the State highway departments in such States to occupy a position analogous to the position occupied by the Federal Government in its operation with the State highway departments."

The committee's statement quotes Mr. MacDonald further as saying in his address that there should be no administration unit smaller than the county and that "the metropolitan counties have sufficient road income to provide for the maintenance of an adequate engineering staff."

The MacDonald statement was made more than a month prior to the proposal of the Byrd road act in the Virginia General Assembly and is therefore unbiased with respect to the controversy now current in Arlington County, the committee points out.

Navy's Flying Giant Is Far Under Way

September Test Is Forecast for Shipbuilding at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 15 (A.P.).—A flying boat for the United States Navy, second in size only to the DO-X, giant German flying boat, is under construction at the Hall-Aluminum Aircraft Corporation plant here.

Construction has progressed to the point where it is certain the craft will be assembled and ready for tests at the Hampton Roads, Va., proving grounds early in September.

The big cruiser is an experimental ship, built to Navy specifications for long distance patrol flying and heavy bombing. The wing spread is about 100 feet and length about 70 feet. When fully loaded and ready for flight the craft will weigh 20 tons. Aluminum and light strong alloys have been fabricated into the all-metal hull.

RULING FAVORS FOES OF NEW CEMETERY

Demurrer to Injunction Suit of Sponsor Is Upheld by Court.

Demurrer to the suit filed March 11 by Fulton R. Gordon, Washington real estate dealer, asking that the Montgomery County Commissioners be enjoined from interfering with his establishing and operating a cemetery at Bradley boulevard and River road, was upheld yesterday by Judge Robert B. Peter in Circuit Court at Rockville, Md.

The demurrer filed by Whiteford & Clasel, counsel to the commissioners, asked dismissal of the suit on two grounds, first that "the plaintiff fails to state in his bill that he has complied with the existing statutes and ordinances respecting the establishment of cemeteries in the area mentioned in said bill," and, second, "that the plaintiff has not stated in his bill that he has applied for a permit or license to establish a cemetery as mentioned in said bill of complaint, nor that he has been refused the issuance of one."

The judge held that Gordon should have first filed application for license with the county commissioners and since he had not done this that the demurrer must be sustained.

Announcement of plans for the cemetery brought forth a storm of protest from residents of the neighborhood, the Congressional Country Club, and civic organizations of that area.

Alexandria Democrats Start Campaign Club

Organization of a Roosevelt and Garner Democratic Club was effected in Alexandria Thursday afternoon when about 50 members gathered at the Old Boathouse on the foot of Prince street and heard addresses by John Hall, commissioner of labor of Virginia, and former Senator Frank L. Ball, of Arlington County.

A 20-foot banner was raised by Capt. W. L. Davis, veteran river pilot.

Data Held Insufficient For Missouri Vote Quiz

(Associated Press.)

Chairman Howell (Republican), Nebraska, of the Senate's special campaign expenditures committee, told newspapermen the committee had notified two Missouri Democratic senatorial candidates their request for an investigation into the State primary was unsupported by sufficient evidence.

The request for the investigation came from B. C. Clark and Charles M. Hay, who asked "an exhaustive investigation of expenditures in the campaign."

U. S. Flier Saved; 17 Days in Jungle

Copilot Was Killed in Crash in Mexican Wilderness.

Mexico City, July 15 (A.P.).—Clarence McElroy, Medaryville, Ind., airplane pilot, was found today after he had wandered seventeen days without food through dense tropical jungles in the State of Oaxaca, where his plane crashed June 27. His partner, Roy Gordon, an American resident of Tegucigalpa, Honduras, was killed. Neither Gordon's body nor the wreckage of the plane was found by the rescue party.

Too weak to walk and almost too weak to talk, McElroy was first seen yesterday afternoon by an Indian woodsman 5 miles west of San Geronimo, Oaxaca. The woodsman went back for help and at noon today a searching party found the airman.

He was slightly injured in the crash, but was declared in messages received here to be "in fair condition," despite his horrible adventure. He said the crash was caused by a severe tropical storm in the midst of which his motor failed.

Marvin was seeking relief from the sizzling heat when it occurred to him it might help to put some ice on his head. He tried some regular ice, but it melted and the water ran down his neck. He then conceived the idea of using dry ice.

A few minutes after he applied it his ears began to burn. He looked in a mirror and was astounded. His ears had turned white. A doctor informed him they were frozen.

Louis Lynch, of Silver Hill, must serve six months in the House of Correction for driving while drunk, and another month in the county jail for continuing to drive after his permit had been revoked. TRACTION BILL GOES OVER TO NEXT TERM these companies that is not represented by property."

Senator Vandenberg (Republican), Michigan, told the Senate that the merger already has been before Congress for five years, and will be before it for five years more, inasmuch as the Senate is occupied with larger problems of a national character.

"It is an inadequate and unfair system to have Congress sit as common council for the District," he said. "The organic act should be rewritten to give the District at least a measure of autonomy."

When Senator King asked if any effort had been made to make the merger bill the unfinished business of Congress, Mr. Austin replied that he had tried "every means of persuasion," but that all had failed.

Senator Blaine said it was "obvious to everyone" that the merger bill was too important a piece of legislation to be considered in the closing days of Congress.

He attacked provisions of the bill that would permit formation of subsidiary companies, charging they would subvert unity objectives of the merger. The only beneficial angle of the legislation from the standpoint of the people would be some $60,000 saved from free transfers, he said, pointing out that universal free transfers were not provided in the measure.

"Half a million people in the District would be the losers financially if this bill were enacted into law," he said.

HEAT-WAVE DEATHS OVER U.S. EXCEED 20

Junction City, Kans., Hottest Point, With 104 Degrees; Coast Areas Cooler.

Chicago, July 15 (A.P.).—The first real scorcher of 1932's summer today sent the mercury near or above the 100-degree mark over most of the sweltering Nation.

More than a score of persons dropped dead as hot winds swept from the Southwest. As the first severe hot wave of the year was in its third day, only the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards experienced appreciable relief.

The highest temperature reported was 104 degrees at Junction City, Kans. At Chicago it was 97, 1 degree hotter than yesterday and 1 degree under the record for July 15.

Generally Hot in South.

Kansas and other plains States reported 100-plus temperatures. Oklahoma City, at 97.2, had the year's hottest day.

In the South it was generally hot but a trifle cooler than yesterday.

The Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain regions had some moderation, with 87 degrees at Salt Lake City. Nebraska cities baked with temperatures of 95 degrees and up, slightly less warm than on Thursday and with clouds bringing hopes of rain.

Five persons dropped dead in Chicago and a sixth victim succumbed in nearby Hobart, Ind. Five deaths were reported in Cincinnati, which had 96 degrees—although much of Ohio enjoyed lower temperatures. Youngstown reported 77 degrees and Cleveland 82.

New York had a high temperature of 82 degrees, Pittsburgh of 85 degrees and showers, Baltimore 86, as compared with 95 yesterday, and Washington 86 and clouds.

Coroner's Jury Blames Bus in Child's Death

A Prince Georges County coroner's jury last night decided that Dale Clark, 2½-year-old child, found dead in the street in front of his home at Hyattsville Wednesday, came to his death by being "struck by a Washington Railway & Electric Co. bus," but avoided naming the driver.

However, Prince Georges County authorities still held James A. Perkins, 1460 Clifton street northwest, under $500 bond on a manslaughter charge. Perkins, a driver for the electric company, admitted last night that he passed the child's house about the time Dale was killed, but said he knew nothing of the accident.

reaction to a procession of allegedly communistic veterans, led by John Pace, of Detroit, who paraded up Pennsylvania avenue to the Capitol.

When the purported radicals had left the Plaza, the left wing, mainly men from the West Coast, moved back to what has become their stamping grounds here on the Plaza.

Criticism flaring forth yesterday from the Capitol police board of Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford's handling of the bonus army, brought the answer from the police head to the effect:

"I am doing my duty as I see it."

A statement charging Glassford acted "wholly without authority" in permitting bonus marchers to parade on the Capitol plaza was issued by the Capitol police board yesterday after conference with Speaker Garner and Vice President Curtis.

The Communist veterans yesterday inclosure only as visitors and not as an organization. This was said to be on instruction from the Capitol police board, composed of Capitol Architect David Lynn, House Sergeant at Arms Kenneth Romney and David Barry, Senate sergeant at arms.

White House Picket.

However, while Glassford's policy of permitting the bonus marchers on the Plaza as long as they kept "on the move," was criticized, it was still in force last night and the local police head appeared to be in charge of the situation.

It was learned that park police have already begun preparations for eventualities arising out of an attempt at picketing the White House.

Robertson's appeal for the mass demonstration and transfer of the "death march" to the White House closed with the following remark:

"If the House and Senate quit without passing a bonus payment bill, we will be on hand, thousands strong, to bid them good-by but not good luck."

Capt. Eugene Everett, of the regular bonus army, speaking in the temporary absence of Commander Waters, indicated his organization would not join any picket at the White House.

"Nothing to Be Gained."

"There is nothing to be gained by picketing the White House," said Everett. "We intend to stay here until the bonus is paid and will demonstrate our numerical strength tomorrow before the Capitol."

The House yesterday passed a Senate bill to reduce the interest rates on all bonus loans to veterans to 3½ per cent. It now goes back to the Senate which cut the interest from 4½ per cent to 3 per cent.

The measure also permits 200,000 veterans, previously excluded from borrowing, to obtain money. It was passed without a record vote.

The loans affected are those authorized in a bill passed over a presidential veto permitting the veterans to borrow up to 50 per cent of the certificates. Under the present law veterans whose certificates are less than two years old are unable to borrow. The measure eliminates that restriction.

Representative Bacharach (Republican), New Jersey, author of the original measure, obtained consideration of the bill under suspension of the rules. Bacharach said it would cost the Government about $100,000,000, spread over a number of years.

Bonus News Fund Misuse Is Denied

Paper Charges Efforts to Incorporate It for Ulterior Purpose.

A front page story in the B. E. F. News, weekly paper of the bonus forces, declaring that funds from the sale of the paper had been mishandled was termed a "libel" by Capt. S. B. McCafferty yesterday. Capt. McCafferty was publisher of the paper.

Several sensational charges were made in the news story which appeared in yesterday's issue of the publication. It stated that profits had not been turned over and that persons had sought to incorporate the paper for their own use.

When Commander in Chief Walter Waters requested that the proceeds of the paper be turned over to the food fund, his demand was ignored, the article stated. It was also charged that the paper was left without a penny last week, and that bonus leaders had to seek financial aid to publish it this week.

UNCLE SAM AND THE HOMEMAKER

By PATTIE ELLICOTT

How to stretch the food dollar is a question with the homemaker just now. In this effort she is amply assisted by Uncle Sam in his various departments and bureaus.

The best value, of course, that can be gotten for the food dollar is the proper kind of food that keeps the family feeling well and able to work, to go to school and to avoid lost time and doctor's bills. The question is not whether you raise your own foods or not, they have the same money value and you need to imagine your food dollar as divided up into five parts.

It is better to give the family a balanced diet composed of the right kinds of foods than just the things they like or are used to. In general terms the division of the food dollar should be as follows:

Milk and cheese	$0.25
Vegetables and fruits	.25
Flour, wheat, cornmeal, oats, rice, grits, bread and other grain foods	.20
Butter, lard, other fats, sugar and molasses	.15
Meat, fish and eggs	.15
Total	$1.00

A family with children in it would do well to stick to this division of each food dollar. A family composed entirely of adults might safely cut down on milk and cheese and increase on other food groups.

Recently the Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture gave the following hints to economical balanced rations:

Give the whole family every day bread and other grain foods, like cracked wheat, cornmeal mush, oatmeal, rice or grits. These are cheap body fuels, especially good for body-building when combined with milk.

Potatoes—Cooked in their skins to keep the full food value.

Milk, fresh, evaporated or dried, depending on the supply, available in your community.

Vegetables or fruits, one or more each day, especially vegetables of green or yellow color. Tomatoes, oranges and raw cabbage have special values.

Molasses, sugar, other sweets in moderation.

Butter, lard, fat meat, other fats for fuel and flavor.

Several times a week serve tomatoes, raw cabbage or raw fruit. Give babies and little children some tomato juice or orange juice every day.

Also serve dried beans, peas or peanuts freely. They are many-sided foods and very helpful in the low-cost ration.

Some lean meat, poultry, eggs, fresh fish, canned salmon or cheese should be served three or four times each week.

And give young children milk at every meal, tomato or orange juice every day and several eggs a week if possible.

FISH BAKED IN MILK.
(Bureau of Home Economics.)

Sometimes the leaner fish, such as halibut or haddock, seem a little dry after cooking in the usual ways. To avoid this, and also to enrich the dish by adding milk, the following recipe is recommended. The sliced onion enhances the flavor for most persons. If desired, evaporated milk, reconstituted in the usual way, may be used, or dried milk.

1½ pounds haddock or other lean fish
Salt
Pepper
1 tablespoon flour
1 large onion sliced very thin
¾ cup crushed crackers or bread crumbs
1¼ cups milk

Clean and wipe the fish with a damp cloth. Cut in pieces for serving and sprinkle with salt, pepper, and flour. Put the pieces of fish in a single layer in a shallow greased baking pan. Cover the fish with the onion and then sprinkle with the crushed crackers or bread crumbs. Add sufficient milk barely to cover. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) from 45 to 50 minutes. If the crackers or crumbs do not brown in that time, put the dish under the flame of the broiling oven.

MAKE PEACH BUTTER AND OTHER PEACH PRESERVES.
(Department of Agriculture.)

All the surplus peaches in the orchard this summer need not go into jars or cans. Some varieties of peaches are suitable for drying. Others are better made into preserves, such as peach butter, peach jam or marmalade, whole peach preserves or pickled peaches. These are all products that are certain to be popular with your family next winter, and they are made easily, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Peach Butter.

Put the peaches in a wire basket and dip them in boiling water a few seconds or until the skin slips. Test by raising the fruit out of the water and rubbing the skin between the fingers. Dip the peaches into cold water, peel and pit them. Well-ripened freestone varieties are best. Mash the pulp and cook it in its own juice without adding water. If it is rather coarse, put it through a colander or coarse wire sieve to make a butter of fine texture. To each pound of pulp add one-half pound of sugar, or to each measure of pulp add one-half measure of sugar. Cook rapidly and stir constantly until the product is of the desired thickness. An asbestos mat prevents burning. The sugar may be added before the cooking begins, if desired. Cinnamon, allspice and ginger added in very small quantities at the beginning of cooking give a nice flavor. The meats of several pits may be cooked either whole or sliced in each gallon of butter. While still hot pack in sterilized jars or glasses with tight-fitting tops and sterilize like apple butter or cover with hot paraffin.

Peach Jam.

To each pound of the peeled and stoned fruit allow three-quarters pound of sugar. Let the sugar and raw fruit stand overnight to draw out the juice. Then cook slowly until the mixture is thick. During the cooking stir the jam frequently to prevent burning, and toward the end slip an asbestos mat under the kettle. Pour the jam into hot sterilized glasses or jars and seal.

Peach Preserves.

Select firm peaches, free from blemishes. Wash and skin. Cut in uniform pieces and weigh. To a pound of fruit use three-quarters pound of sugar. Make a layer of the fruit in a large shallow dish and cover with a layer of sugar and allow to stand overnight. In the morning stir the fruit, then heat slowly until all the sugar has dissolved. Cook rapidly until the peaches are tender and clear and the sirup is thick. Put into sterilized glasses at once or place in shallow trays overnight to plump. Reheat in the morning before putting into sterilized glasses. Seal.

Here are three interesting recipes in which butter is used as given out by the Bureau of Home Economics.

Vanilla Wafers.

2-3 cup butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
1¼ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla

Cream the butter and sugar, add the well-beaten egg, the milk, and the sifted dry ingredients, then the vanilla. Drop by half teaspoonfuls on a lightly greased baking sheet, allowing room to spread. Bake in a moderate oven (about 350 degrees F.) for about ten minutes, or until the edges are golden brown.

Carrots in Parsley Butter.

8 or 10 medium-sized carrots
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley

Wash and scrape the carrots and cut them in slices or dice. Cook in a small quantity of boiling salted water for ten or fifteen minutes, or until tender, drain, add the butter, lemon juice and parsley, and serve at once.

Potatoes and other hot vegetables are good with this parsley and lemon butter as a sauce.

Watercress or Parsley Butter.

½ cup butter
¾ cup finely ground watercress or parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
Few drops tabasco sauce
½ tablespoon lemon juice if desired

Cream the butter, add the finely ground watercress or parsley, salt, tabasco sauce, and lemon juice, and stir until well blended. Use as a sandwich spread. If making fancy rolled sandwiches, place a sprig of watercress in each end.

RASPBERRY BISCUIT RECIPE AWARDED $5

Formula Is Seasonable and Will Be Welcomed by All Housewives.

Seasonal indeed is this week's Post prize winning recipe. The $5 award went to a formula for raspberry biscuits which was submitted by Mrs. M. Jacobson, of Hyattsville, Md.

Mrs. Jacobson's recipe provides an interesting way of using one of the summer's most delicious fruits. To be eligible for The Post's weekly prizes, recipes which are sent in must use some product of the advertisers on the Saturday Food Page of The Post.

Mrs. Jacobson's recipe follows:

2 cup Self-Rising Washington Flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons butter (Land O' Lakes).
1 cup cooked raspberries.
¾ cup milk (about)

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Work in the shortening with a knife or pastry blender. Add part of the milk, the drained raspberries and enough more milk to make a soft dough.

Drop by spoonfuls on a greased baking sheet and bake in a hot oven, for 20 minutes, temperature 425 degrees (F.).

Chaplin's Film Earns Him Gross of $315,000

Los Angeles, July 15 (A.P.).—One motion picture starring Charlie Chaplin, film comedian, earned him a gross of $315,000 in the first six months of this year, witnesses revealed today at board of equalization hearing on Chaplin's application for a reduction in his tax assessment. Chaplin asked that his assessment be lowered from $7,297,234 to $1,657,316. He did not appear at the hearing.

J. Robert White, accountant, and H. B. Green, an attorney representing Chaplin, informed the board the picture, "City Lights," earned him $315,000 in six months and that the picture, "The Circus," netted him $292,095.90 in 1929, but fell off to $88,829.61 in 1931.

Government in Austria Bans Number of Imports

Vienna, Austria, July 15 (A.P.).—The government made it extremely difficult today for Austrians to import eggs, fresh and canned fruits, flour and flour products, barley, rye, mineral waters, hunting rifles, lead pencils nad colored pencils.

Under a decree of the executive committee of the Nationalrat, a special permit must be obtained to bring any of these articles into the country. Permits must be issued by a government commission which has a policy of refusing them whenever possible. The purpose is to preserve Austrian credits abroad.

Maude Adams Is Sued for $200,000.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Maude Adams, famous actress, has been named a defendant in a suit for $200,000 brought by John D. Williams, stage director, for services which he said terminated in her return to the stage last fall in "The Merchant of Venice." Erlanger Productions, Inc., and four others also are named defendants.

COOKING GREEN VEGETABLES.

I'VE received some questions recently in connection with my radio talks on food.

The first one is: "How can I cook greens and keep them green?"

The secret of cooking green-leaf vegetables so that they will keep their fresh green color is this: Cook them just as short a time as possible, and cook them in an open kettle.

Another question is:

"Should the water be boiling when you put vegetables in to cook?"

The answer to that is yes. The water should be lightly salted and boiling briskly. And remember that the less water you use in cooking vegetables, the more food value you save. Let the water evaporate, and what little remains can be served with the vegetable.

For the sake of the fresh green color, as well as the vitamins, cook green vegetables until they are tender, and no longer. Long, slow cooking tends to destroy the vitamins in green vegetables. And as for color, whenever you see a dish of olive-drab greens, you can be almost sure they were cooked for a long time, in a closed kettle.

The next question on the list is about cooking green peas.

Now, one of the best cooks I know says that peas cook tender more quickly when simmered in a small quantity of lightly salted water than if allowed to boil. They keep their fresh green color better, too, and they aren't so likely to pop open and become, well—mushy.

The green peas on the market are now sweet and juicy. The pods are so full that a couple of pounds will be enough for six people.

Just the other day, though, I read an article by one who says that real peas should be measured (if measured at all) in pecks, not pounds. They should be served (according to this writer, Louise Kent) in "capacious dishes, preferably deep bowls of honest brown earthenware."

Miss Kent says that the purest taste allows nothing but salt and generous lumps of golden butter. She admits, however, that there are others who add a dash of sugar to the peas as they boil, pour thin cream among them, and eat them comfortably from a saucer, with a spoon. Others add a sprig of mint. But Miss Kent says she considers this practice effete—a dangerous symptom in an otherwise sturdy democracy!

But no matter how they are cooked, there's only one way to shell them, according to Miss Kent. "They should be shelled by the family; shelled not in any kitchen * * * but on a wide, shady porch, where the sun flickers through the maples and elms, and warm breezes blow the scent of clover and drying hay through the rustling leaves. The air is full of pleasant sounds: The rush and gurgle of the brook; crows in argument among the pines; the rhythmic clatter of the mowing machine * * * the thunder of horses' feet when another load of hay rumbles into the barn. Into this symphony comes the pleasantest sound of all—the stinging rattle of peas falling into a shining tin pan."

Market Meanderings

By MILDRED REED BUNDY

Red-Ripe Tomatoes, Luscious Watermelons Feature Market at Low Prices; Red Currants Seen; Pork Chops Priced Up 100 Per Cent.

The red-ripeness of big midsummer tomatoes and the voluptuous green of watermelons are the current vivid color spots in the market places that the Meanderer visits, and tomatoes and watermelons are also among the foods that furnish timely interest this week. From all directions the tomatoes are coming to Washington, with the plentiful supply on the local market bringing the retail price down lower and lower. This week tomatoes have been known to sell for less than 5 cents a pound, in small quantities, although the average price is slightly higher.

On his seventh trip this season down the Potomac to Washington, a tomato grower from Madison Hall this week brought in 152 baskets of tomatoes — half-bushel sizes and larger—to a ready wholesale market in the southwest section of the city. For ten years this producer has been bringing his tomato boat to port at the same wharf and selling his harvest to the same wholesale dealer. His tomatoes are carefully graded—so carefully graded that the wholesale dealer feels that the second grades from this grower are comparable with the best grades from other sources. The minimum price for the half-bushel baskets was 75 cents, and the maximum for the bushel baskets was $1.50.

Watermelons from the Carolinas as well as from Georgia for sale by thousands, and a promise of thousands more to come soon from the Eastern Shore of Maryland make life most endurable for the watermelon fanciers. Medium-size melons weighing 30 pounds or less continue to sell for 40 to 45 cents. In July of 1931 watermelons were bringing 60 to 65 cents on the local market.

"And can I pick you a good melon?" a brisk and confident grower and seller of watermelons said to the Meanderer. "Why, lady, I can see straight through a watermelon." No better choice could have been made by this marketer if he had possessed such magic insight into and under the thick rind of the melons, for the selection he made was faultless. Through the watermelon season he will have many of his big, bulky green wares to offer to patrons in the Southwest market. His judgment is to be trusted, for he has been intimate with watermelons for 32 years.

The clear scarlet of currants makes another delightful color splash in the market stands, though not a large splash, for currants are just timidly pushing their way into the local shops in small shipments from New York and New Jersey. They sell for 15 cents a quart in a large open market in the Northwest section.

Higher prices for pork, interesting to producers, to politicians and to economists, have an importance for the housewife, of course. A pork loin roast at 25 cents a pound this week costs just about double the amount it set back the housewife's purse in January. In one big open market out Fourteenth street way, N. W., the humble pork loin chops, which were easily found for 15 cents a pound or less in the winter, sell now for 30 cents a pound. Other markets were authoritatively reported to the Meanderer to be asking as much as 38 cents for pork chops.

"We'll not get rich selling pork, however," a dependable meat dealer in the Northwest market told the Meanderer. "For the cheaper cuts of pork are not selling so readily as they did in the winter. It's a matter of the butler cuts paying for our losses on the less desirable cuts. In the winter we could make sausage of the less-wanted parts of the pork and therefore afford to sell the choice parts at a lower price than we can now. No one wants sausage meat in July."

In summer meanderings the ready-to-eat foods have probably the greatest appeal to the housewife. A reward for marketing from stand to stand through the big, interesting markets, even on a torrid day, is found in the enticing eatables ready for immediate use—such as a display of big, man-size fruit pies, really made in a home by an expert as were found in a stand in the Northwest market, where the meanderer spent much time this week. These big fruit pies—cherry, raspberry, pineapple and apple, made fresh every day—sell for only 25 cents each. Cooked ham is another special offering in this stand, ready for sale after it has been cooked by a careful, long, slow method which preserves all the ham goodness. This ham, cooked, sells for 70 cents a pound. Cheon tea, not available everywhere, is another appealing item this dealer has sold for many years.

Juliennes—a nice name for some crisply fried, finely cut potatoes much like shoe-string potatoes—are another ready-to-serve food on the Meanderer's discovery list this week. They sell for 60 cents a pound in the big Northwest market in the Fourteenth street district. Potato waffles, or lattice potatoes, in demand for beach parties and other affairs, are also for sale at this market stand at the same price as the Juliennes. Think of the kitchens that can be spared the heat necessary for frying such potatoes and the housewives that may be spared the red-faced effort required on these July days for an expert job of preparing a pound of such delicious potatoes—at a cost of 60 cents! If potato salad is the choice rather than fried potatoes, then this stand has potato salad carefully prepared each day, only a few hours before its sale. Homemade jellies are finding ready sale, along with the salads and fried potatoes.

Two banana dealers and a watermelon merchant chose to spend part of one hot afternoon this week, when selling was nearly over for the day, in reminiscencing, light-heartedly, about the good old days when prices were higher. The Meanderer was privileged to listen.

"Back in 1923, watermelons sold for $2.50 apiece," started out the watermelon dealer, who has 32 years of experience in his calling. This improbable-sounding statement was met with boos from the banana man. The 1932 marketer might easily have forgotten that prices ever were high, the watermelon dealer admitted, but he supported and repeated his statement about the $2.50 watermelons.

"Oh, well, if you must tell such stories, there was a time when bananas sold for $8 a bunch," one of the banana men contributed. The average bunch of bananas, sold at wholesale, brings not more than $2 today.

"That's nothing," the watermelon sage came back. "I saw strawberries sell for $3.50 a quart once." He explained that "once" was in the winter of 1925. "Snow was deep in Washington at the time, and probably there weren't more than a couple of quarts of strawberries in town."

"Well, alligator pears, in their early days on the market, brought $1.50 each," was the last extravagant memory that the Meanderer heard. Another marketer had meanwhile chipped into the discussion with a tale of fancy prices for cucumbers. "Cucumbers in large sizes were introduced about 1895, and brought prices that seem fabulous now, when cukes are three for a nickel," he said.

SIBYL BAKER LEAVES TODAY FOR SESSION

To Represent Washington at Los Angeles International Recreation Meeting.

Miss Sibyl Baker, supervisor of the Department of Playgrounds, will leave today for Los Angeles where representatives from 42 nations, the United States, Hawaii and the Panama Canal Zone will discuss the world's recreation problems. She will represent Washington.

Miss Baker also will be the District's representative at the opening of the Olympic games.

The National Recreation Congress is the sponsor of the international congress and although it has been the custom for more than 25 years for heads of playground departments to meet yearly to discuss the new phases of their work, this is the first time that representatives from every corner of the globe have been called to exchange ideas.

The Capital playground supervisor will appear as speaker three times during the convention.

Officials of the National Recreation Association view the forthcoming convention as the most important in its history.

At present Washington has a recreation coordinating committee appointed by President Hoover and headed by E. C. Graham. Miss Baker is a member of the committee. She plans to make a study of the systems here and abroad while in California. The results are expected to be of unlimited value to the local committee.

Training of Cadets Is Unsolved Puzzle

Dr. Stephen Kramer to Decide School Problem Next Week.

Just how the Washington public schools cadet corps will be supervised, now that the officers in charge have been released from service through an economy measure in the War Department annual supply bill, will not be known until next week, when Dr. Stephen E. Kramer, assistant superintendent of schools, in charge of cadets, returns to the city.

Jere J. Crane, acting superintendent of schools, said yesterday that school authorities have not yet received formal notification of the action dismissing the officers. In any case, he said, he could not comment on the situation.

Once in the past the cadets corps was minus training officers. At that time alumni members volunteered their services to train the lads. Eight Army officers training university and high schools cadet corps have lost their jobs through the cut.

Christian Science Churches

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all the Churches of Christ, Scientist, tomorrow. The Golden Text is from Psalms xxvii:1: "The Lord is my light, and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?" Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; thou maintainest my lot. They have now compassed us in our steps; they have set their eyes bowing down to the earth" (Psalms xvi:5, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy: "Question—What is Life? Answer—Life is divine Principle, Mind, Soul, Spirit. Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. Time is finite; eternity is forever infinite. Life is neither in nor of matter. What is termed matter is unknown to Spirit, which includes in itself all substance and is Life eternal. Matter is a human concept. Life is divine Mind. Life is not limited. Death and finiteness are unknown to Life. If Life ever had a beginning, it would also have an ending" (Page 468).

FIGHTING AGAINST RELIEF.

Enactment of the relief bill, including the "publicity clause" for loans made through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, now seems assured. The Senate conferees surrendered to this mischievous scheme engineered by Speaker Garner, to avoid a long delay in adjournment. Presumably the bill will go to President Hoover in that form and he will sign it with a vigorous expression of disapproval for the publicity feature.

Thus Congress comes to the end of its work with an outburst of acrimonious politics. Relief has been grudgingly given because the Democratic leaders in the House know that President Hoover will receive credit for it. Speaker Garner could not foist upon the country either his pork barrel or his attempt to open the Treasury to every one in need of money, but he has been able to impair the usefulness of the administration relief measure. The responsibility for this destructive piece of work will fall squarely upon the Speaker's shoulders.

No one has attempted to defend the publicity clause, except on political grounds. The idea of the Government lending hundreds of millions of dollars to banks to keep them solvent and then informing the public of its action, thus weakening the confidence of depositors, is too absurd for consideration outside the realm of politics. Speaker Garner is either hopelessly ignorant of the American credit structure, or else he places a fanciful partisan advantage above the welfare of the country. When his performance on this bill is added to his pork-barrel exploits and his prodigal designs against the Treasury, Speaker Garner invites defeat of the Democratic ticket.

This attempt to destroy the usefulness of the relief bill is even more reprehensible in view of the agreement that President Hoover's program would be accepted. The new measure was even dubbed the "Hoover Bill" by Democrats in the House. Speaker Garner did not dare to kill it and thus leave the country without relief for unemployment and business stagnation. But he could not resist the temptation to play politics. It is unfortunate that the Speaker was not clever enough to realize that this move puts the blame for any damage done by the publicity feature upon himself, while credit for the relief measure in general will go to President Hoover.

The Democratic House has done everything in its power to prevent the enactment of sound relief legislation. Democratic members of the Senate are no less disgusted than is the public with Mr. Garner's leadership. If the Speaker thinks that he has gained the confidence of Democrats by his proposals during this session he is in for a rude awakening. Scores of strong men of his political faith are condemning him for having placed the Democratic party on the defensive at the very opening of the campaign.

COST OF NATIONAL DEFENSE.

One section of the address delivered by Secretary of War Hurley at Columbus, Ohio, deserves attention from a nonpartisan viewpoint. Referring to that lament in the Democratic platform about the people being burdened with "expenditures fast approaching a billion dollars annually" for national defense, the Secretary of War proved that the cost of national defense is not approaching $1,000,000,000 or anything like that sum.

Expenses of the Army and Navy are frequently exaggerated. In their rush the framers of the Democratic platform fell into a common error. All that is necessary to determine the cost of national defense is to add the expenses of the Navy to the military expenditures of the War Department. For 1933 appropriations for the Navy are $317,583,591. Appropriations for the War Department that will be devoted to military purposes amount to $283,754,020. This brings the total cost of national defense to slightly more than $600,000,000, or 40 per cent less than the figure cited by the Democratic platform.

Pacifists deliberately misrepresent the cost of national defense. The misinformation in the Democratic platform will be reiterated again and again. Those interests which are trying to cripple the Army and Navy as an example in disarmament to the rest of the world gloat over this blunder. The result will be a clamor by misinformed persons against adequate national defense.

This type of propaganda is especially unfortunate in its effect upon foreign nations. No country in the world is spending $1,000,000,000 per year on national defense. When European powers listen to a major political party in the United States accusing the Government of spending almost that sum, a most unfavorable impression is created. The great military powers use this as an excuse for maintaining excessive armaments, and try to embarrass the United States by demanding limitation on a budgetary basis.

Military expenditures in America are high in comparison with other countries only because the United States makes more generous allowance for its soldiers, sailors and marines. The common practice in Europe is to conscript men and pay them almost nothing. Peacetime conscription is unknown in this country, and the armed forces are allowed reasonable pay as well as comfortable living quarters. Hence, the American Army can not be compared with those of Europe on a cost basis.

Both Democrats and Republicans who favor adequate national defense must deplore this misrepresentation as to how much it costs. In comparison with the total budget and with the extent and wealth of the country the cost of national defense in the United States is very low. It can not be safely reduced without lowering the living standards and the remuneration of the Army and Navy personnel, and no one is willing to do that.

PROHIBITION POLITICS.

Senator Glass, of Virginia, has assumed leadership of the Democratic drys who are revolting against their party's prohibition plank. A short time ago Senator Glass told the Senate that he would not be bound by the decision of "any frenzied political assembly anywhere on earth." Now he has introduced a substitute for the eighteenth amendment, carrying out what he believes to be the pledge of the Republican prohibition plank.

This action by the Virginia senator is generally interpreted as a counter move to Senator Bingham's beer bill, which forced the Senate Democrats to repudiate their party's demand for "immediate modification." But it is more significant than that. Senator Glass admitted that his measure was intended to test the good faith and sincerity of Republican senators, but he offered it primarily to carry out the views of the Virginia State Democratic convention. The senator makes no apology for his measure merely because it would make the Republican platform effective. Like millions of other Democrats, he is not ready to vote in favor of repeal of the eighteenth amendment without providing something to take its place.

Even if Senator Glass' resolution could be pressed to a vote at this session, it would not embarrass the Republican party. Some individual senators would not know which way to jump. But the Republican platform clearly recognizes that prohibition row cuts crosswise through both parties, and it does not bind any candidate to either the wet or dry side. A repeal amendment would, therefore, be hardly more embarrassing to Republicans than was the beer vote.

On the other hand, Senator Glass has emphasized the preference of many Democrats for the Republican stand on prohibition. The South finds it extremely difficult to indorse the planks for outright repeal and immediate liberalization of the Volstead act. A moderate plank, allowing them to refer the problem to the States with assurance against the saloon and Federal aid for dry States, makes a powerful appeal to Southerners who are not willing to destroy all that has been accomplished through prohibition but who nevertheless sense an impending revolt against present conditions.

It is true, of course, that some Republicans favor the Democratic prohibition plank above that of their own party. But, not being pledged, they may retain those views without criticism of their party loyalty. The effect is to subordinate prohibition as an issue in the Republican party, while the extreme plank adopted by the Democrats becomes constantly more galling to Democratic drys and moderates.

A NEW FARM NOSTRUM.

Senator Norbeck's masterstroke to aid the farmer was adopted without a roll call on Wednesday, but the Senate suddenly reversed its position the following day, and all hope of lavish bounties on farm crops this year have gone a glimmering.

Political farmers in the Senate have taken no notice of the Farm Board's colossal failure to stabilize prices. Farm relief is a magic word that sweeps away all memory of past experience with quack remedies. Many fancy measures have been agitated, but Congress has pulled through another session without placing any new price-stabilization nostrums on the statute books.

This new dream of siphoning prosperity for the farmer out of the Federal Treasury was conceived by Senator Norbeck. He admits that it is only a gamble. "If there is any hope in the bill," he told the Senate, "it is that it is limited to one year and limited to three staple commodities."

The Norbeck bill provides for uncamouflaged bounties to producers of wheat, cotton and hogs. The Secretary of Agriculture would be required to determine what portion of the total output of these three commodities is needed for domestic consumption. The bounty would apply to that portion of each crop. If 75 per cent of the wheat crop were found to be essential for domestic use, each farmer would be paid 42 cents per bushel on 75 per cent of his crop. The cotton bounty would be 5 cents per pound and the hog bounty 2 cents per pound, on a similar basis.

Funds to pay these bounties would be obtained from special taxes levied on millers, cotton factories and slaughter houses. Every miller would have to pay the Government 42 cents for the privilege of turning a bushel of wheat into flour. In other words, the Government would undertake to insure the farmer of prices far above the natural value of his produce. The inevitable result would be to slow up the flour, cotton manufacture and meat packing industries, and probably to accelerate importation of these products in spite of tariff duties. Farmers would be encouraged to overproduce by the promise of artificial prices, but their markets would be restricted, and another great surplus of farm products would certainly accumulate.

Failure of the Farm Board's experiment was first apparent when farmers refused to curtail their crops in the spring of 1931 after the board had bought up most of the surplus wheat and cotton produced in 1930. The board did herculean service in trying to reduce the output, but its efforts were ignored because of the apparent promise of better prices. The Norbeck nostrum does not even attempt to curtail production. It merely offers to collect a bounty from manufacturers for the benefit of grower, thus encouraging another orgy of overproduction.

As a principal contributor to the result, Sir John Simon is the proper person to draw up an eloquent resolution praising the Geneva conference for accomplishing a complete fiasco.

RIGHT TO OWN PROPERTY

By CALVIN COOLIDGE, in Collier's Weekly.

If we delegate the paying of our taxes we shall find we have delegated the control of our Government. Nothing seems clearer than that if the people are to control the Government they must pay the taxes to support it. These two go together. And secondly, if the people are to have an opportunity to own the property of the Nation they must pay the taxes on it. These two go together. Power and responsibility can not be separated, politically or economically.

Our system of property rights has been devised out of much hard experience for the purpose of confirming the liberty and independence of the people. It can not be limited or destroyed without limiting or destroying the opportunity of the people.

If it is necessary to meet an emergency excessively high taxes on a few large incomes and inheritances might be made temporarily without great injury. But to adopt such a system permanently and, under the pretense of raising revenue, pursue a policy of expropriation and attempted redistribution of wealth would have the gravest consequences. One of two things would be likely to result: Enterprise would be stifled, accumulations of property would be dissipated, and a condition of depression would become chronically progressive, with a falling standard of living, economic suffering and great poverty on the part of the people. The other alternative would be the creation of a class of great wealth who would have a large control of the Government because it would be dependent on their money for its support.

Only under some system of privilege and by exploiting the people could such a class continue to pay the high taxes required. That would be the recreation of the age of overlords. The rest of us would be reduced to dependency. In either case the people lose.

It would be a mistake to suppose that our Constitution undertakes to protect property as such. Property has no rights, only the people have rights. The Constitution protects the rights of the people in their property. There is no purpose to protect a person because he is rich or powerful. The whole idea is to protect the poor and weak. We want to make their rights just as sacred as the rights of those more favorably situated. Equality of rights is the aim. When property rights are in jeopardy the first to suffer are the wage-earners. The protection of property rights is the only way to insure any opportunity for employment and progress.

Because of these safeguards ownership has become widely distributed. Their maintenance is the only guarantee of a further broadening of distribution. Nearly two-thirds of our people have life insurance, millions more have savings deposits. Indirectly these people own many of the bonds of the Government, the industries and the public utilities. Millions of others are small shareholders. Probably more than two-thirds of all these indirect or direct owners are wage-earners or their dependents. These are the people who will suffer if property rights are ever disregarded.

While our system is opposed by some inherited and uninformed prejudice it is in little danger from direct assault. The people know that property in the United States generally represents service and merit. They know that it is absurd to suppose that a people capable of self-government are not capable of managing and holding property. They know that ownership is an indispensable symbol of liberty.

Our danger lies in indirect attacks on our property rights under the guise of taxation.

CROWDED JAPAN.

In 1868 Japan's population was 32,000,000. Within 60 years it had doubled, according to the census of 1930 there were 64,450,005 in Japan proper. The ratio of increase in 1930 was 15.19 per 1,000 or 1,000,084, according to Yusuke Tsurumi in the Yale Review.

Taking 1,000,000 as the annual average increase of her population, she would have 100,000,000 by 1965 in a territory smaller than the State of California. And not more than 16 per cent of her land can be cultivated. This means that she has to support two and a half times as many people as Belgium on the same arable area.

Both at Sea.

POST HASTE.

The procession around the Capitol has been particularly annoying to many congressmen, as it reminds them of walking the plank.

In the absence of Congress a great flock of special committees will investigate everything except the vital question as to whether Secretary Mills' neckties match his socks.

It evidences much devoted study that Senator Couzens is able to be disagreeable in so many different ways.

Congress, in a stew to get away, knows how the commuters who have to catch the Owl at 11:47 feel about that last rubber, which is always the longest.

Due to France's Fourteenth of July holiday, London edged two exhibitions ahead of Paris in the interpretative dance at Lausanne.

Surely no European nation is so naive as to think that under any circumstances there can be a return to the Young plan, any more than to the old Dawes plan.

This must be like a long-drawn-out Christmas Eve for Mr. Hoover, waiting another month yet to hear the result of the first Chicago convention.

Sounds like congressional finance, that story of the woman who bought $10 worth of 2-cent stamps "before the price went up."

If condemnation of the Farm Board for buying at higher prices than those that prevail today should be generally applied, would you escape?

Speaking of woman's rights, a new book discloses that one of the burning issues in the trial of Jeanne d'Arc was the charge that she had "thrown off the bonds of shame; careless of all the modesty of womankind, she wore with an astonishing and monstrous brazenness immodest garments belonging to the male sex."

Is there any other kind of organization in the world besides Congress that would permit incongruous riders to be saddled on bills built for one purpose, and then prevent these measures from being considered on their merits? There ought to be a law!

If Herr Hitler is addressed as chancellor next month a Teutonic interpretation of various open and shut agreements will be heard.

Our uninvited guests are becoming more comprehensive in their demands. The Conquering Christian Crusaders, claiming 2,000 recruits, seeking immediate repeal and bonus payment, add the incidental item of a ten billion prosperity loan.

The Mythtery ship may be scheduled for a dry cruise, but it has a case of Jimmy Walker on board.

Two dams are contemplated in connection with the St. Lawrence waterway, not counting contributions from the governors of New York and Quebec.

If the League of Nations committee orders Japan to stay in Manchuria all precedence regarding compliance will be broken. PAUL HUDSON.

HOW RECOVERY COMES.

The historian who had been talking about past depressions was asked what form he thought the recovery from this one would take. That he did not know, says the Fergus Falls (Minn.) Journal. But in the past, he said, recoveries had almost always come on so quickly and in so many little ways that no one knew the process was going on until they woke up one day to find there was no more depression. He thought it likely that the same thing was going on now—no big spectacular movement of any kind, many little forward motions like the growing of grass in a meadow.

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad to His Flapper Daughter.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

MY DEAR LOUISE—The people most in danger are those who have faith in the wrong things.

When you and your crowd spent a week-end "roughing it" in the mountains, you felt entirely safe because one of the boys took along an ampoule of antivenin. Doubtless that feeling of safety made you more careless than usual.

This summer you will be in snake country many times. You may disturb a rattler the next time you step over a log. And if that should happen, which God forbid, you won't have a chance if you put your faith in "cures."

Antivenin serves a purpose, but it won't save your life—nor will solutions or crystals of potassium permanganate or any other chemical known to man.

People have faith in these things because they seem to counteract the effect of venom, but the only people they "save" are those who didn't get enough poison to kill them.

The minimum fatal dose of a rattler's venom is one milligram to each pound of your weight. And big rattlers kept on snake farms have ejected as much as 640 milligrams at a stroke. That dose would kill six like you.

Now figure the worth of your trusted antivenin. It is put up in little glass bottles called ampoules. Each ampoule contains 10 c. c. of serum and is supposed to neutralize only 15 milligrams of poison. To neutralize the big snake's 640 milligrams you would have to inject about 45 ampoules—which would cost over $300.

Don't depend on it, child.

There is only one safe treatment for the bite of a poisonous snake. You can tell the poison ones, for the pain is intense and violent. First bind a ligature above the puncture. A handkerchief will do. Then make crossed incisions half an inch deep and equally wide at each puncture. Then suck. Use a suction pump if you have it. Or use your mouth. And keep up the suction for half an hour. That will save you, and nothing else will.

Loosen the ligature every fifteen minutes to prevent gangrene. The venom is absorbed very slowly, for it destroys every cell it touches. If it spreads, make new incisions at the edge of the swelling and again suck out the venom and bloody lymph.

Use your antivenin to neutralize the venom that gets into your blood stream. It will do that. But suck the poison out. If you don't your blood will still be absorbing it eighteen hours later—if you live that long.

Only one snake in ten ejects enough venom to prove fatal, but you can't take a chance. Keep your head; cut, bleed and suck.

And send somebody hot-foot for me. Love, DAD.

Who Will Pay for the Campaigns?

Boston Transcript.

National Chairman Sanders, of the Republicans, and James A. Farley, of the Democrats, must smile a bit in their sleeves when they read the announcement that their parties are planning to economize this year, and that they will raise between them only $10,000,000 for campaign purposes, as against the $16,500,000 expended in 1928. Where they will get half that money may be their problem, before the campaign is over; nor should they need it, in view of the free publication by the newspapers of political developments as fast as they occur. The people know pretty well the political what's what, without laying out good money to tell them.

5,000,000 New Voters.

Houston Post.

Five million new voters, young men and women who never voted for Presidents before, will cast their first ballots November 8.

Perhaps the majority will vote about as their parents do. Not from any high reverence for parental wisdom, but because they belong to about the same social and economic elements as their parents, and they copy their group patterns.

A bit of advice to the new voters. "Read, read, read." Follow the doings of the Federal and State governments, Congress and the legislatures. What the candidates promise for the future is not so important as what they have performed in the past. The reading voter, the listening voter, is our salvation. Shams slink out of sight when they face his searching eye.

People, Not Parties, Must Decide.

Grand Forks (N. Dak.) Herald.

There is manifest absurdity in attempting to make of prohibition an issue as between the Republican and Democratic parties. There are minorities in every party, and it is not expected that all the members of any party will be agreed on all the issues which may come before it. There must be some compromise, some give and take. Prohibition does not lend itself to that sort of compromise. Opinion on that subject is too pronounced, too distinctly divided. So long as prohibition is in the Federal Constitution, its enforcement is a matter of Federal concern, and it is competent for the political party to express itself on the manner in which enforcement should be conducted. But whether prohibition is to remain in the Constitution or be removed therefrom, is a matter for the States to determine and a matter of conscience with a multitude of citizens.

Don't Ask Bingham!

Congressional Record.

Mr. COUZENS. The question again arises about the meaning of the word "immediately."

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I very ardently trust that my friend will not ask the senator from Connecticut (Mr. Bingham) for an interpretation of the word "immediately."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Federal Authority Must Protect District of Columbia as the Seat of Government.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It strikes me that it is about time for some one to declare the truth in regard to the invasion of the National Capital by the bonus marchers. The situation is not a local one. It is of Federal importance and should be dealt with by the Federal Government.

The Constitution framers in their wisdom made a Federal District the "seat of the Government of the United States" in anticipation of such situations. It is not a mere fanciful wisecrack to say that the District of Columbia is Uncle Sam's workshop. Plainly speaking, it is a Government reservation, which was set aside as a place where essential Federal activities might be carried on free from local influences and the distractions of the mob.

When the bonus invaders threaten to encamp here by the tens of thousands until Congress and the President are forced to yield to their demands; when in evidence of the reckless leadership by which they are influenced and inspired, and contrary to orders of the Vice President and Speaker of the House they take mob possession of the grounds surrounding the Capitol, their action is nothing short of seditious.

I was disappointed that a final and decent settlement of their claims was not arranged during the Coolidge administration, and they always have had and have now my full sympathy. But while they hold their present attitude I do not think it in keeping with good citizenship to give them countenance. The evil effect of their ill-advised movement up to this time must be very great, and if there is further tolerance as the result of a half-way policy on the part of the civil authorities, the example of the bonus march will encourage and inspire enemies of orderly government everywhere and result in future invasions of the Capital by other groups less patriotic than the World War veterans.

Clearly the situation resulting from the bonus invasion has reached a point where, in the name of law and order, and as a precedent for the future treatment of such situations, it should be taken in hand by the military arm of the Government.

FEDERALIST.

Thinks Unemployed Breadwinners Should Be Given Jobs as Golf Caddies.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: At the end of an eighteen-hole golf game yesterday I handed a 15-year-old boy the established fee of $1, probably to be squandered within an hour. My observation, both here and on other golf courses, is that at least 90 per cent of the caddies are irresponsible lads. Those under 20 years of age are totally improvident and are merely seeking pocket money for personal use. In times like the present it seems a shame that this easy money is not being earned by heads of families who may have failed to find other work. A sizable sum is paid out each week to caddies, ranging from $1,500 to $2,000, by the clubs in this vicinity. Of this sum I doubt if three-fourths goes to breadwinners.

Let some club advertise its preference for unemployed breadwinners and give the men a chance to supplant the youngsters. W.

Mount Vernon Memorial Highway—Not Boulevard—Is Planted Informally, Not Like a City Avenue.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I have noted the tendency of the public and the press to refer to the new Mount Vernon Memorial Highway as the Mount Vernon Boulevard.

The congressional act calls it "the Mount Vernon Memorial Highway." This is the only title that should be used. The highway is developed informally throughout. There are no formal rows of trees. Groupings of foliage masses have been planted with studied informality, in the hope that nature will do her major part in creating the final beauty of this memorial with the maturity of the years. It is simple and unostentatious; it is democratic; it is not stilted and formal, as the French appellation "boulevard" might imply.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

STARTING OUT.

They're planning to get married, and
I'm rather glad they are,
Although the road ahead today seems difficult and far.
They've very little money, and I'm rather pleased at that, They'll know the joy of striving in an inexpensive flat.

They're launching out together with high hopes and courage great;
They'd dreamed of having riches, but they've chosen not to wait,
And they're starting out with little—just his salary every week—
And they'll have to save and struggle now for every gain they seek.

Their bills will give them trouble, and they'll sigh for things in vain.
She's going to do the cooking, and I fancy 'twill be plain.
He'll help her in the kitchen and he'll dry the dishes, too,
And learn a lot of duties that he never thought he'd do.

But every chair they purchase will be ladened with delight;
Every trinket toiled and saved for will with joy be doubly bright.
So I'm not the least bit sorry, but am positively glad,
For they'll know the fun of striving which their dads and mothers

VIRGINIA U. PARLEY BRINGS DRY ISSUE

WomanWet Questions Stand of State Federation of Clubs.

Charlottesville, Va., July 15 (A.P.).—The prohibition question was raised at the Institute of Public Affairs today when Mrs. Alexander M. Weddell, of Richmond, questioned the stand of the Federation of Women's Clubs on the wet issue.

Saying that the constitution and by-laws of the General Federation of Women's Clubs states that it is a nonpartisan and nonpolitical organization, Mrs. Weddell asked, "How can it have taken the stand which its officers have annually reiterated against the repeal of the eighteenth amendment?"

Mrs. Weddell is chairman of the Richmond and Henrico County Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform.

The question which she raised was referred outside the session to Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who said she could not answer for the actions of the club before she took over the leadership.

She explained, however, that the question had not come up for reaffirmation at the recent Seattle convention. The action of the organization group at Seattle in sending telegrams to party national committee chairmen stating the federation's stand to be in favor of prohibition law enforcement, she interpreted as the "expression of the delegate body only."

In the final public address of the institute in McIntire Amphitheater tonight, Dr. Robert McElroy, professor of American history at Oxford University, formerly of Princeton, predicted that Great Britain's "buy British" policy will inevitably further cripple America's foreign trade.

Coney Island Ruins Combed for Women

3 Missing Since Wednesday Sought in Fire Debris by Relatives.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—The ruins of the Coney Island fire were combed today for three women reported missing by their relatives. Frank Volrubа, 34, told police his wife, Ruth, and her sister, Mrs. Jennie Dinneen, had gone for a swim on the day of the blaze—Wednesday—and he had not seen them since. They intended going to Rockaway Beach, he said, but might have changed their minds.

Mrs. Fannie Belford, 75, previously was reported missing by her son. She, too, went to the resort Wednesday and was accustomed to patronizing Silver's bathhouse, one of the structures destroyed.

After a conference with Welfare Commissioner Frank Taylor, Mayor Walker turned down a plea by Brooklyn Red Cross officials to issue a proclamation declaring the aftermath of the fire an "emergency." He had been informed that the city was appropriating $10,000 for the destitute and $100,000 more was available.

Kellogg Calls Trade Ills Finance "Jag" Hangover

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Frank B. Kellogg, former Secretary of State and now a justice of the World Court, came home with Mrs. Kellogg on the Leviathan today, and described the economic situation as the hangover from "a financial drunk."

"We are economically sound, our resources are great, our people are able and inventive," he said, "but we have been on a financial drunk for years. We have got to get over it—that's all."

Chicagoan Heads Rainbow Division.

Los Angeles, July 15 (A.P.).—Noble C. Judah, of Chicago, former Ambassador to Cuba, was elected president of the Rainbow Division at its annual convention today. Mrs. J. P. Stack, of Los Angeles, was elected national president of the auxiliary.

Missouri Life Insurance Elects Julius H. Barnes

St. Louis, July 15 (A.P.).—Julius H. Barnes, former president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, this afternoon was elected chairman of the board of directors of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. Mr. Barnes plans to come to St. Louis frequently, but will not make his home here. He resides in Duluth, Minn., and has his principal office in New York City.

Theobald Feiss, a miller, of Cincinnati, Ohio, had been chairman of the board. Mr. Barnes, a native of Little Rock, Ark., was president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States from 1922 to 1924 and became chairman of its board in 1929.

HOOVER CUTS HIS OWN SALARY AS NEW SCALE TAKES EFFECT

pending permanent assignments. The War Department immediately sent out calls for them to report to the nearest military attache or post for temporary duty.

In voluntarily reducing his salary from $75,000 to $60,000, President Hoover set a historical precedent. He becomes the lowest paid Chief Executive since Roosevelt, who received $50,000 a year. Before the Civil War the President's income was half that amount.

The order reducing Cabinet salaries from $15,000 a year to $12,750, was issued at the regular semiweekly Cabinet meeting. Afterward the following statement was given out:

"The President has received the unanimous request from members of the Cabinet that they should be subjected to the maximum reduction of salaries possible under the economy bill.

"The President has therefore issued the necessary order by which they will be reduced 15 per cent instead of the alternative, which would amount to 8 1-3 per cent under the furlough provisions."

Curtis Also Takes Cut.

Vice President Curtis, first member of the Cabinet to leave the meeting, said he had signed an order for a similar cut in his own pay. He also receives $15,000.

Undersecretaries in the various departments, who draw $10,000, will take a 10 per cent cut, and assistant secretaries, who receive $9,000, will be reduced 9 per cent.

So far as could be ascertained, the Federal employe hardest hit by the economy act was Elmer T. Crowley, president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, who yesterday drew only two-thirds of his regular pay. He normally receives $18,000 a year. Yesterday he received his semimonthly installment on $12,500 a year.

Department heads are awaiting a formal executive order from the White House directing them to apply additional payless furloughs wherever necessary to keep within appropriations.

These so-called "administrative furloughs," over and above the calendar month payless leave called for in the five-day week, will be invoked at the discretion of department chiefs to prevent outright discharges. In some cases they will amount to more than a month's additional leave without pay.

First Protest Made.

First protest of alleged "unfair" tactics in selecting workers for indefinite furloughs came yesterday from a delegation of Federal Farm Board employes.

They charged approximately 40 per cent of the board's staff of 350 employes have been ordered on indeterminate leave without pay, while some employes without Civil Service status are being retained on the roll.

Spokesmen for the board said no workers had been placed on indefinite furloughs, but some were being furloughed from week to week until a plan of reorganization can be worked out by the board.

The McCarl opinions handed down yesterday excluded military enlisted personnel from abolition of pay increases based on automatic promotions and length of service, as well as from pay cuts and furloughs. They were specifically exempted from the latter in the economy act.

Officers Must Take Cut.

He held that all commissioned officers and warrant officers must take both 8 1-3 per cent pay cuts and 24-day furloughs.

Although leave of West Point graduates was canceled, the comptroller ruled that other officers and cadets at the academy can be absent without pay when the academy is not in session. He ruled that Army and Navy nurses receiving less than $1,000 a year may not take annual leave without pay except for absences due to personal illness.

In another decision, he said that Government employes who are members of the National Guard may take leave with pay for training periods.

He held that per diem employes who have received $1,000 or less and are exempted from furlough or pay cut under the economy act, may receive the same pay for five days that they formerly received for a full week.

Federal Radio Commission employes, who formerly received vacations only in July and August, can receive none this year, the comptroller decided.

He ruled that employes of navy yards, including the Washington yard, may not receive paid leave even thought it is due them from 1932. This decision followed a similar recent ruling affecting Government Printing Office employes.

Expert Answers Readers' Questions on Beauty

M. K.: Your mother is right. Constipation is beauty's curse and very likely the leaden quality of your skin is due to the irregularity you speak of. Summer is a good time to get the vital organs to function regularly, because during the warm weather one naturally prefers the light leafy salads to heavy meats and fatty dishes. Drink plenty of water, eat fibrous vegetables, do some bending exercises daily. For full information on the subject send for my bulletin on "constipation."

On Superfluous Hair.

Mrs. K. C.: Electrolysis is the only method I know of that has thus far proved generally successful in the permanent removal of superfluous hair. X-ray and the administration of light for this purpose, while successful for some individuals has not yet been unanimously approved by health and beauty authorities because of the difficulty of determining the exact dosage necessary for the individual case. Sometimes the light is so strong that it not only kills the hair but the skin too. My bulletin on superfluous hair will cheerfully be sent to you on receipt of self-addressed, stamped envelope—and please repeat your question.

Omit Powder After Sunburn Remedy.

L. C.: When the skin is very tender after sunburn and has been treated to an oil or unguent remedy to allay the irritation, it is best to omit powder for several days until the skin is near normal again. Otherwise, the powder may stick and form the painful crust you speak of.

• • • •

N. P.: You are right in using a cream cleanser for your face, since your skin is dry and your nose peels. To remove every bit of the cream, follow the cleansing by patting with skin tonic, either a ready prepared tonic, or witch hazel and distilled water, half and half as a very mild lotion for the dry and sensitive type of skin.

How much an electrolysis specialist will charge and how long it would take to clear the little broken blood vessels from the skin depends entirely upon the individual condition. Why not consult an expert in your vicinity?

• • • •

Miss J. O. V.: I am very sorry I can not mention trade names in my column. There are many excellent bleaches on the market. However, I would advise you to choose a mild bleach to begin with as anything that really removes freckles or liver spots may be injurious to the skin. Be sure the preparation does not contain mercury.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

SPARE THE CHILD.

As the hot season approaches it is well for parents to remember that children are unduly affected by heat. Proportionate to their weight, they have more skin surface than adults do. They work harder, though we call work by another name. They eat more per pound of weight, since they need nourishment because of their hard work and also by reason of the demands which growth makes. Eating a large amount of food per pound of weight, digesting it, making it into tissue and converting it into energy is a heat making process. Babies are quite susceptible to heat stroke which, with them, is apt to take the form of cholera infantum.

While the skin absorbs both light and heat, it also is the chief agency in cooling the body. Dr. F. B. Talbot has recently supplied additional proof of the ability of the skin to fit its temperature to the heat or cold of the air. He proved that the temperature of the body varied somewhat with the season of the year.

Our common conception that the temperature of the body in all of its parts, at all seasons of the year and all conditions of weather is held rigidly at 98 3-5 is wrong. We get hot when the weather is hot and cold when the atmospheric temperature drops. The trunk is warmer than the head and the legs are cooler. The temperature of the feet and hands is apt to be coolest of all. On a hot day when the hands swell and sweat the temperature of the skin there is warm. By cooling the feet and hands and making them white and fairly bloodless in cold weather nature conserves bodily heat.

The child who wants to wade on a warm day may not know his physiology, but he is on the right track. When he tries to go in deep enough to get his body wet he is even more right. Allowed to follow his instincts, no child ever wore heavy clothing or many garments when the weather was hot. On the other hand, unless the hand of restraint is kept in operation they have been known to appear robed about like their ancestors were when they left the Garden of Eden, and, at times, they would make Eve appear overdressed. They have a lot of skin for each pound of weight and something tells them they should have a chance to throw off heat.

Another of Dr. Talbot's demonstrations was that when we go without food the body temperature falls. Children lose their appetites in hot weather. One way of tempting appetite at this season is to give frozen foods and cold drinks. Even a better one is to give cold baths and make free use of fans.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"CANCER."

If July 16 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a. m. to 12:35 a. m., from 4 p. m. to 5:10 p. m., and from 8 p. m. to 9:50 p. m. The danger periods are from 7:30 a. m. to 9 a. m. and from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m.

There will be much cry and little wool on July 16. On the one hand, nothing will be so bad as it appears, and on the other hand, none of the good things will be flawless. A frivolous mood will replace the morning's sterner atmosphere, and the evening hours will be filled with light gaiety.

The child born on this July 16 will be far from a brilliant student, but like many so-called dumb-bells in school days, it will doubtlessly do something of an outstanding nature later on. It will be observant, be a plodder, and although a slow thinker, a very clear one. It will always be conscientious and "right."

Born on July 16, you are a person of dash and energy. You are wonderful at stirring up ideas, but are not a natural creator. You are a promoter, pure and simple. No one need do your thinking for you, but some one must do the detail and donkey-work in the execution of your plans. Your blue-prints are often clear and flawless, and there will be many contractors anxious to buy them.

You seem to be master or mistress of your own life, and always carry with you such an abundance of gaiety, hope and vitality, that you are able to shoulder your own problems and those of others, too. You can often turn a bad situation in the opposite direction through a laugh, a joke, or the right word or look. There is one thing in your "make-up" which is no joke—your jealousy. You let the yeast of suspicion grow within you until your whole system is thoroughly poisoned, and your mind becomes too toxic for you to know what you are doing or saying. You are very sensible in all roles of life except that of a lover, when your demands are impossible and you kill that which you most desire, the love of the other party. You yourself are not a model of unfickleness, and you must learn not to expect too much from others.

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

Two bandana handkerchiefs make any one of these three bathing dresses! (According to Dah-ray.)

NEW YORK, July 15.—Whatever and whyever!

Yes, and however!

You can't believe your own eyes, let alone your little earwackers * * * but your eyes and ears tell you that there is sketched three beach suits made fror bandana handkerchiefs! And that they are adorable and cunning, chic and the last word in cuteness—and that each is made of only two bandana handkerchiefs * * * costing 5 cents apiece!

Oh, of course, common sense would tell you that you might indulge in a couple of more hankies at this price—and make the shorts of two hankies instead of one—so you could hang your clothes on a hickory limb and go in the water. In this case you would just use the handkerchiefs as though one were the lining for the other. Then if you had another nickle to spare—you might buy one more hankie to cover your bathing cap! 'Nif you had still another nickel—oh, that is too much—well, say you had another nickle and a few prejudices—you could likewise and besides put flares on each pantie leg—and have a beach dress like on the lady I sketched with the flares.

And there you are, ladyees an gemmemen—a rag, a pin and a hunk of thread—and oh, yes, two bandana hankies and the dime necessary to buy them with which—swich-wich—well, you finish. * * *

• • • • •

'Twas quite accidental, the way I handed the "banana" handkerchief industry such a break. 'Member the little apron we made of them a few weeks ago? Well, there were a couple of hankies left over from that experiment, and one unusually fine, sunshiny day at Dawn Mirage I was just fresh out of costumes for my nude sunbathing—yes, I said what you heard! 'n' I took the 50,000 pins—and evolved, devolved and resolved this sun suit. The neighbors haven't recovered yet—'member that the nearest one is a half mile away, though. Well, and when I found out that you could make a perfectly adorable beach suit out of two bandana hankies, costing 5 cents apiece—well again—it didn't take me long to make you a leaflet telling you how to do it.

THE LURE OF SEVEN-CARD SUITS.

WHENEVER a hand contains a suit of seven cards or more, most players become affected with a complex, and insist that the hand be played in that particular suit, regardless of the fit of the hand with partner's. Actually, holding a seven-card suit should only slightly complicate the question of finding the best bid in the combined hands, which is the primary object of Contract bidding.

Recently Mrs. R. W. Bardwell, of Madison, Wis., sent me the hand below and asked me to give the correct bidding, pointing out at the same time that in a Duplicate game in that city every East player had insisted upon playing the hand in spades, while there was a game available at notrump or hearts.

South—Dealer.

East and West vulnerable.

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
Pass	1♡(1)	Pass	1♠(2)
Pass	3♣(3)	Pass	3♠(4)
Pass	4♣(5)	Pass	4♡(6)
Pass	Pass	Pass

1—Not strong enough to open with a Forcing bid of two in a suit.

2—This hand is not strong enough to force. The "One over One" response to an Opening bid is almost sure to elicit further bidding from partner.

3—Showing a second biddable suit, and insisting that the hand be played at game.

4—Disclosing Rebid strength in the spade suit.

5—Asking for a choice between the two suits.

6—East, perhaps reluctantly, makes a choice.

Played in hearts, the question of making six-odd is only a matter of the diamond finesse, although six should not be bid.

TODAY'S POINTER.

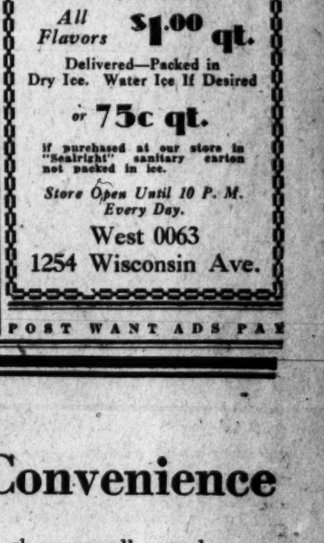

Few players are strong enough to resist the lure of extremely long holdings in bidding a hand at Contract. Even freakish holdings, however, should not blind the player to the fact that the object of Contract bidding is finding the correct declaration in the combined hands.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

West—Dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

A Lesson in Speed and Convenience

Here's a man who's trying to call on all his friends and do all his business in person. He's tiring fast.

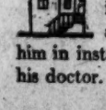

Here's a man who has a telephone—and uses it. Looks fresh and happy, doesn't he?

He knows his talks with friends are in themselves worth more than the cost of the telephone.

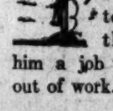

His telephone is good insurance too. Keeps him in instant touch with his doctor.

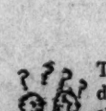

His wife likes the telephone because it saves her steps. She shops as well as makes social calls by telephone.

They both get a big thrill and much comfort in talking to their children in other cities.

They'll never forget that telephone call that brought him a job when he was out of work.

They can't understand how they ever got along by borrowing the use of their neighbor's telephone, or why some of their friends still try to do without one. Can you?

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

A DECIDED trend toward radio dramatics is expected by fall. The great strides which have been made during the past year in the perfection of methods of presentation of radio drama have succeeded in bringing that field to the attention of sponsors, with the result that more and more of these molders of radio entertainment are giving dramatic programs very serious consideration. Four out of six of the national network sponsors who signed recently for their fall and winter series chose dramatic rather than musical hours.

There have been three or four outstanding dramatic hours—such as Danger Fighters, Death Valley Days, Sherlock Holmes—but the surface of this form of entertainment has hardly been scratched. The March of Time will return to the air about the middle of September with several dramatizations during one program.

The British Imperial Conference, opening at Ottawa, Canada, July 21, will be the subject of discussion on the Institute of Public Affairs program (WMAL, 9:15 o'clock) tonight. The speaker will be Sir Willmott Lewis, of the London Times.

A NEW electric eye for ships, which can "see" icebergs through the densest fog, even in the dark; which can measure the position of the sun for the navigator, through thick clouds, and which makes the naval smoke-screen an obsolete defense mechanism, since it spots the ships of the hidden column as accurately as if they were in full view—this extraordinary thermo-electric device will be demonstrated tonight (WMAL, 7 o'clock) by Orestes H. Caldwell, former Federal Radio Commissioner.

This Macnell electric sextant was recently used by its inventor to bring the Mauretania across the Atlantic on a voyage when the sun was obscured by clouds for five days, yet with the thermo-electric eye, the ship's navigators measured the sun's position daily and so located the ship's course each noon exactly as if the sun were in full view.

"With this device," O. H. writes, "you can as actually 'see' a cold highball in the adjoining hotel room. Think of that!"

BROADCASTING can not yield to the czars of pugilism or football any more that it can yield to censorship by others, "Broadcasting Magazine" comments.

"The censorship of radio from the outside," it continues, "is specifically prohibited in the Federal radio. The proposal of the New York Commission obviously is a self-sop for the criticism heaped upon the judges of the recent Sharkey-Schmeling fight for their decision—a decision that drew even more vehement criticism from the press than from the radio commentators. It is our guess that an aroused public will soon let the colleges and the cauliflower industry know their disfavor. Radio will not bow to dictation or censorship any more than have the newspapers."

WMAL engineers have been busy the past two weeks working out a new policy of using suspended microphones on all pick-ups from the Army and Navy bands. It is said that floor vibrations which occur when the usual mike stands are used are eliminated when they are hung by wires.

Col. William O. Tufts, Washington Chamber of Commerce, will discuss "The New Schools Directory," tonight (WMAL, 6:45 o'clock).

WILLEM VAN HOOGSTRATEN has chosen the Symphony No. 5 in E Minor by Tschaikowsky and Ippolitoff-Ivanoff's "Caucasian Sketches" as the features of the Lewisohn Stadium concert to be broadcast by the orchestra of the New York Philharmonic Society (WMAL, 7:30 to 9 o'clock) tonight.

Other selections to be included in the broadcast will be Wagner's "Prelude" to "Lohengrin" and Sibelius' tone poem, "Finlandia."

Rollicking days of the silver rush to Colorado will be vividly recalled by a program commemorating the revival of the old Central City, Colo., Opera House, where Fanny Barlow, John L. Sullivan, Belle Archer, Denman Thompson, Maggie Mitchell and many others were acclaimed. The program, which will feature short talks by old timers who attended the formal opening of the Opera House 52 years ago, will be heard at 5 p. m. over the WJZ-WBAL network.

THE Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra, from Chautauqua, N. Y., will present a popular symphonic concert at 7:30 o'clock tonight over WRC. The program will be conducted by Georges Barrere. A medley of Percy Grainger compositions, the overture to Mozart's opera, "The Marriage of Figaro," Liszt's "Second Rhapsody" and Stoessel's "Hispana" suite will be played by the orchestra. Julius Heuhn, soloist, will offer an aria from "The Flying Dutchman," by Wagner.

NATS TURN BACK BROWNS, 8-7, FOR SEVENTH IN ROW

Record Feats Mark Opening of American Olympic Trials

This Morning with Shirley L. Povich

THE Nats have done a commendable about-face since losing four out of five to the Cleveland Indians, and New York still regards Washington as the team to beat for the pennant, according to Gotham baseball men.

Seven victories in their last seven games have served to restore the dash and pepper to the Washington club that apparently had oozed from the team when the recent disastrous Western trip ended. One hundred and seven hits have clattered off the Washington bats in the last seven games, an average of fifteen per game, indisputable evidence that the Nats have recovered the offensive that was supposed to have made them a prominent contender this year.

The most pleasing aspect of the recent upward trend of the Nats, aside from the club's hitting, has been the performances of Alphonse Thomas, who cost $20,000 in cold cash. Thomas has won three straight games, two in excellent relief roles, and his presence fortifies Johnson not only with a dependable starting pitcher but with a man who can be counted upon to relieve a mate in distress.

The caliber of Washington's relief pitching, which reached high marks in 1924 and 1925 when Fred Marberry was the peer of all rescue hurlers, has been none too good in recent seasons. Yesterday's game, in which Weaver and Coffman were routed in the same inning, was a poignant example of what has been happening to the Nats too many times. Thomas' work was a relief that was a relief.

Joe Cronin is steadily reestablishing himself as the biggest batting threat of the Washington team, having boosted his average from .290 to .314 within the past ten days and stinging the ball with the same vigor that earned him the award as the league's most valuable player in 1930.

Cronin has been crossing the defense by hitting to right field, but he is a natural straight-away hitter and his double that won the game in the eighth inning yesterday was a solid smack that might have netted him three bases against any arm but Goslin's. With Cronin showing a vast improvement in the clean-up role, and Manush maintaining an average of better than .330, the Nats are showing a better attack than at any time this season even in the absence of Carl Reynolds.

M'LARNIN VS. BROUILLARD.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver welterweight, and Lou Brouillard, former holder of the 148-pound title, today were matched for ten rounds at the Yankee Stadium August 4.

Tolan and Toppino Lead Sprint Stars in Heats; Upsets in Many Events

Sexton Betters Mark in Shot, Anderson in Discus.

Simpson, Metcalfe Trail Toppino in 100 Meters.

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor).

STANFORD STADIUM, Palo Alto, Calif., July 15 (A.P.).—Three world record performances contributed to a sensational beginning today for the final American Olympic track and field tryouts as upsets eliminated some of the Nation's outstanding stars.

Two stalwart Easterners, Leo Sexton and John Anderson, both of the New York Athletic Club, surpassed world marks in the shot put and discus throw, respectively, after Eddie Tolan, Detroit Negro flash, equaled his own world record of 10.4 seconds, against the wind, in the 100-meter trials.

Sexton topped the shotputters with a mighty heave of 52 feet 8 inches, as his most feared rival, Herman Brix, of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, barely gained the fifth qualifying place by the thin margin of three-eighths of an inch with a put of only 49 feet 2 inches. Sexton's toss was a half-inch beyond the official world record.

Anderson Hurls Discus 165.54 Feet.

Anderson hurled the discus 165.54 feet to surpass the listed world record of 163 feet 8¾ inches, made in 1929 by Eric Krenz. Since then, however, Paul Jessup's new American record of 169 feet 8⅞ inches has been put up for world record approval.

Tolan's startling dash against a head-wind enabled him to whip Frank Wykoff, of southern California, after Emmett Toppino, New Orleans flier, had taken the measure of George Simpson, of Columbus, Ohio, and Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette Negro, in 10.9 seconds in the first trial. These five, with James Johnson, another dusky speedster, of Illinois State Normal, completed the sextet of qualifiers for tomorrow's 100-meter final.

Carr Outshines Eastman.

In their first tests since the famous intercollegiate 440-yard record race two weeks ago, Bill Carr, of Pennsylvania, outshone Ben Eastman in the 400-meter trials. Carr, running beautifully, equaled the Olympic record of 47.6 seconds to win his heat, after which Eastman had a struggle to capture the second trial in 48.8 seconds.

The field events developed the most surprising reversals of form. The West Coast favorites were especially hard hit as James De Mers, of Los Angeles, and Ken Churchill, of San Francisco, American and intercollegiate record holders, respectively, failed to qualify in the javelin. Dick Barber, of Southern California, the intercollegiate broad jump titleholder, and Bob Jones, of Stanford, discus star, also failed to qualify in their specialties.

Harvard's crack hurdler, "Red" Record, was shut out in both the 400-meter and 110-meter hurdles.

YANKS STOP TRIBE AND FERRELL

NEW YORK, July 15 (A.P.).—Blasting Wes Ferrell from the mound in the fourth inning, when they scored five runs, the Yankees went on to interrupt Cleveland's winning streak, 8 to 5, in the second game of the series today.

Where Ferrell, seeking his seventeenth victory, was unable to cope with the leaders' big guns, Lefty Gomez returned to form and, although touched for nine hits, had little trouble chalking up his fifteenth win. The Castilian had lost his last three previous starts.

Army Netmen Leech Cup Choices

Slight Favorites to End Navy's Streak Here Today.

McCue, Muehleisen in No. 1 Clash; Close Matches Seen.

A TENNIS match of national importance will be played at the Army and Navy Country Club this afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, when the Army and Navy clash for a year's rights to the Leech Cup, placed in competition in 1924 and since won twice by the Army and six times by the Navy.

There is nothing to choose between the two teams today, and if there is a slight shade in favor of one it goes to the Army, which has not been able to gain the cup since 1925. The Army team, which consists of four singles players and three doubles teams, is headed by Cadet Dolf Muehleisen, the Army Air Corps tennis ace and recent winner of the District of Columbia championship in singles and doubles.

Others on the Army singles squad are Lieut. Stanley K. Robinson, Army singles champion and joint holder with Muehleisen of the District doubles title; Maj. Robert C. Van Vliet, former Army singles champion and captain of the Leech Cup team, and Capt. J. H. Drake. Drake won his place in the singles by playing spectacular tennis after the close of the regulation Army championship, in which he was eliminated in an early round.

Navy will be headed by Lieut. J. K. McCue, the most improved player in his service. McCue supplants Lieut. Richard M. Watt as No. 1 man, where Watt has performed the majority of his eight years as a member of the Navy team. Watt's game is reported better than ever, a tribute to McCue, who beat him out for the top position. Lieut. Gerry Smith, who is half of the City of Washington doubles champion, plays No. 3 for Navy, with Lieut. Jimmy Farrin No. 4.

German Cupmen Leading Italians

Rome, Italy, July 15 (A.P.).—Germany all but clinched the right today to face the United States team in the challenge round for the historic Davis Cup in Paris next week-end.

Prenn beat George de Stefani, 6—1, 6—4, 1—6, 6—2, and Von Cramm stroked his way to victory over Giovanni Palmieri, 6—3, 7—4, 6—4, 6—0. Both Germans continued the sensational form that swept the highly favored British squad from the annual competition last week.

On the basis of today's play, Germany should have no trouble winning the second pair of singles. Prenn meets Palmieri and Von Cramm tackles De Stefani Sunday.

Sonnenberg Beats Shikat on Tackle

Philadelphia, July 15 (A.P.).—Gus Sonnenberg, erstwhile Dartmouth football star, credited with introducing the flying tackle to wrestling, triumphed over Dick Shikat, of Philadelphia, tonight, using his specialty to hurl Shikat from the ring and win the fall in 33:52.

Shikat scored the first knockdown, but it won him a reprimand from the referee against using his closed fist. Then the battle seesawed for about fifteen minutes, during which the contestants were up and down. Sonnenberg used several flying tackles with varying success, finally launching one which precipitated both of them out of the ring.

Sonnenberg, however, crawled back and won the count when Shikat was unable to return.

West's Throw Home Cuts Off Winning Run in 8th.

Pass to Rice, Double by Cronin Brings in Decisive Tally.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

PITCHER "GENERAL" ALVIN CROWDER could not stand prosperity yesterday, the result being that the Nationals, after getting off to a 7-run lead, were given the scare of their lives and just managed to beat the Browns, 8 to 7.

And in order to do this it took a sensational double play started by Sam West to keep the St. Louis Club from taking the lead in the seventh and a long double by Joe Cronin, with Sam Rice on the paths, to permit Washington to win out in the eighth. It was the Nats' seventh straight victory and gave them their longest streak of the season.

Considering that the Nats knocked George Blaeholder off the peak in a six-run rally in the first and extended their margin to seven runs in the second, there is no earthly excuse why they should not simply have coasted home. But Crowder started loafing, managed to pull himself together and bear down following an alien two-run rally in the sixth, and then was unable to do it again when the Browns suddenly went wild with the bat in the eighth.

Coffman, Weaver Fail as Reservers.

With three runs over in this session and only one dead, Dick Coffman relieved Crowder and he lasted just long enough to walk Pinch-Hitter George Fisher on four successive wide ones. Then Monte Weaver tried his hand. Fred Schulte greeted him with a long single which scored two men and knotted the string. When Jack Burns doubled Schulte to third, Thomas was rushed to the hill. Bruce Campbell was at the tee and he lashed a liner to center. West came in for it, made the catch and shot a rifle peg directly to Spencer to nip Schulte at the plate with the run which would have put the Browns in front.

Then the Nationals hustled in from the field. Irving Hadley walked Sam Rice, the first man to face him, and Joe Cronin, with two dead, doubled to deep left. The latter tried to Philadelphia, July 15 (A.P.).—Visibly off form, Big Bill Tilden, former international tennis champion, today lost two matches in exhibition games here before several hundred persons at the Skytop Club.

Tilden dropped his singles match in straight sets to Hans Neusslein, professional champion of Germany, 6—3, 6—1.

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

A DECIDED trend toward radio dramatics is expected by fall. The great strides which have been made during the past year in the perfection of methods of presentation of radio drama have succeeded in bringing that field to the attention of sponsors, with the result that more and more of these molders of radio entertainment are giving dramatic programs very serious consideration. Four out of six of the national network sponsors who signed recently for their fall and winter series chose dramatic rather than musical hours.

There have been three or four outstanding dramatic hours—such as Danger Fighters, Death Valley Days, Sherlock Holmes—but the surface of this form of entertainment has hardly been scratched. The March of Time will return to the air about the middle of September with several dramatizations during one program.

The British Imperial Conference, opening at Ottawa, Canada, July 21, will be the subject of discussion on the Institute of Public Affairs program (WMAL, 9:15 o'clock) tonight. The speaker will be Sir Willmott Lewis, of the London Times.

A NEW electric eye for ships, which can "see" icebergs through the densest fog, even in the dark; which can measure the position of the sun for the navigator, through thick clouds, and which makes the naval smoke-screen an obsolete defense mechanism, since it spots the ships of the hidden column as accurately as if they were in full view—this extraordinary thermo-electric device will be demonstrated tonight (WMAL, 7 o'clock) by Orestes H. Caldwell, former Federal Radio Commissioner.

This Macnell electric sextant was recently used by its inventor to bring the Mauretania across the Atlantic on a voyage when the sun was obscured by clouds for five days, yet with the thermo-electric eye, the ship's navigators measured the sun's position daily and so located the ship's course each noon exactly as if the sun were in full view.

"With this device," O. H. writes, "you can as actually 'see' a cold highball in the adjoining hotel room. Think of that!"

BROADCASTING can not yield to the czars of pugilism or football any more that it can yield to censorship by others, "Broadcasting Magazine" comments.

"The censorship of radio from the outside," it continues, "is specifically prohibited in the Federal radio. The proposal of the New York Commission obviously is a self-sop for the criticism heaped upon the judges of the recent Sharkey-Schmeling fight for their decision—a decision that drew even more vehement criticism from the press than from the radio commentators. It is our guess that an aroused public will soon let the colleges and the cauliflower industry know their disfavor. Radio will not bow to dictation or censorship any more than have the newspapers."

WMAL engineers have been busy the past two weeks working out a new policy of using suspended microphones on all pick-ups from the Army and Navy bands. It is said that floor vibrations which occur when the usual mike stands are used are eliminated when they are hung by wires.

Col. William O. Tufts, Washington Chamber of Commerce, will discuss "The New Schools Directory," tonight (WMAL, 6:45 o'clock).

WILLEM VAN HOOGSTRATEN has chosen the Symphony No. 5 in E Minor by Tschaikowsky and Ippolitoff-Ivanoff's "Caucasian Sketches" as the features of the Lewisohn Stadium concert to be broadcast by the orchestra of the New York Philharmonic Society (WMAL, 7:30 to 9 o'clock) tonight.

Other selections to be included in the broadcast will be Wagner's "Prelude" to "Lohengrin" and Sibelius' tone poem, "Finlandia."

Rollicking days of the silver rush to Colorado will be vividly recalled by a program commemorating the revival of the old Central City, Colo., Opera House, where Fanny Barlow, John L. Sullivan, Belle Archer, Denman Thompson, Maggie Mitchell and many others were acclaimed. The program, which will feature short talks by old timers who attended the formal opening of the Opera House 52 years ago, will be heard at 5 p. m. over the WJZ-WBAL network.

THE Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra, from Chautauqua, N. Y., will present a popular symphonic concert at 7:30 o'clock tonight over WRC. The program will be conducted by Georges Barrere. A medley of Percy Grainger compositions, the overture to Mozart's opera, "The Marriage of Figaro," Liszt's "Second Rhapsody" and Stoessel's "Hispana" suite will be played by the orchestra. Julius Heuhn, soloist, will offer an aria from "The Flying Dutchman," by Wagner.

NATS TURN BACK BROWNS, 8-7, FOR SEVENTH IN ROW

This Morning with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

THE Nats have done a commendable about-face since losing four out of five to the Cleveland Indians, and New York still regards Washington as the team to beat for the pennant, according to Gotham baseball men.

Seven victories in their last seven games have served to restore the dash and pepper to the Washington club that apparently had oozed from the team when the recent disastrous Western trip ended. One hundred and seven hits have clattered off the Washington bats in the last seven games, an average of fifteen per game, indisputable evidence that the Nats have recovered the offensive that was supposed to have made them a prominent contender this year.

The most pleasing aspect of the recent upward trend of the Nats, aside from the club's hitting, has been the performances of Alphonse Thomas, who cost $20,000 in cold cash. Thomas has won three straight games, two in excellent relief roles, and his presence fortifies Johnson not only with a dependable starting pitcher but with a man who can be counted upon to relieve a mate in distress.

The caliber of Washington's relief pitching, which reached high marks in 1924 and 1925 when Fred Marberry was the peer of all rescue hurlers, has been none too good in recent seasons. Yesterday's game, in which Weaver and Coffman were routed in the same inning, was a poignant example of what has been happening to the Nats too many times. Thomas' work was a relief that was a relief.

Joe Cronin is steadily reestablishing himself as the biggest batting threat of the Washington team, having boosted his average from .290 to .314 within the past ten days and stinging the ball with the same vigor that earned him the award as the league's most valuable player in 1930.

Cronin has been crossing the defense by hitting to right field, but he is a natural straight-away hitter and his double that won the game in the eighth inning yesterday was a solid smack that might have netted him three bases against any arm but Goslin's. With Cronin showing a vast improvement in the clean-up role, and Manush maintaining an average of better than .330, the Nats are showing a better attack than at any time this season even in the absence of Carl Reynolds.

M'LARNIN VS. BROUILLARD.

Tolan and Toppino Lead Sprint Stars in Heats; Upsets in Many Events

Sexton Betters Mark in Shot, Anderson in Discus.

Simpson, Metcalfe Trail Toppino in 100 Meters.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor).

STANFORD STADIUM, Palo Alto, Calif., July 15 (A.P.).—Three world record performances contributed to a sensational beginning today for the final American Olympic track and field tryouts as upsets eliminated some of the Nation's outstanding stars.

Two stalwart Easterners, Leo Sexton and John Anderson, both of the New York Athletic Club, surpassed world marks in the shot put and discus throw, respectively, after Eddie Tolan, Detroit Negro flash, equaled his own world record of 10.4 seconds, against the wind, in the 100-meter trials.

Sexton topped the shotputters with a mighty heave of 52 feet 8 inches, as his most feared rival, Herman Brix, of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, barely gained the fifth qualifying place by the thin margin of three-eighths of an inch with a put of only 49 feet 2 inches. Sexton's toss was a half-inch beyond the official world record.

Anderson Hurls Discus 165.54 Feet.

Anderson hurled the discus 165.54 feet to surpass the listed world record of 163 feet 8¾ inches, made in 1929 by Eric Krenz. Since then, however, Paul Jessup's new American record of 169 feet 8⅞ inches has been put up for world record approval.

Tolan's startling dash against a head-wind enabled him to whip Frank Wykoff, of southern California, after Emmett Toppino, New Orleans flier, had taken the measure of George Simpson, of Columbus, Ohio, and Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette Negro, in 10.9 seconds in the first trial. These five, with James Johnson, another dusky speedster, of Illinois State Normal, completed the sextet of qualifiers for tomorrow's 100-meter final.

Carr Outshines Eastman.

In their first tests since the famous intercollegiate 440-yard record race two weeks ago, Bill Carr, of Pennsylvania, outshone Ben Eastman in the 400-meter trials. Carr, running beautifully, equaled the Olympic record of 47.6 seconds to win his heat, after which Eastman had a struggle to capture the second trial in 48.8 seconds.

The field events developed the most surprising reversals of form. The West Coast favorites were especially hard hit as James De Mers, of Los Angeles, and Ken Churchill, of San Francisco, American and intercollegiate record holders, respectively, failed to qualify in the javelin. Dick Barber, of Southern California, the intercollegiate broad jump titleholder, and Bob Jones, of Stanford, discus star, also failed to qualify in their specialties.

Harvard's crack hurdler, "Red" Record, was shut out in both the 400-meter and 110-meter hurdles.

YANKS STOP TRIBE AND FERRELL

NEW YORK, July 15 (A.P.).—Blasting Wes Ferrell from the mound in the fourth inning, when they scored five runs, the Yankees went on to interrupt Cleveland's winning streak, 8 to 5, in the second game of the series today.

Where Ferrell, seeking his seventeenth victory, was unable to cope with the leaders' big guns, Lefty Gomez returned to form and, although touched for nine hits, had little trouble chalking up his fifteenth win. The Castilian had lost his last three previous starts.

Army Netmen Leech Cup Choices

Slight Favorites to End Navy's Streak Here Today.

McCue, Muehleisen in No. 1 Clash; Close Matches Seen.

A TENNIS match of national importance will be played at the Army and Navy Country Club this afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, when the Army and Navy clash for a year's rights to the Leech Cup, placed in competition in 1924 and since won twice by the Army and six times by the Navy.

There is nothing to choose between the two teams today, and if there is a slight shade in favor of one it goes to the Army, which has not been able to gain the cup since 1925. The Army team, which consists of four singles players and three doubles teams, is headed by Cadet Dolf Muehleisen, the Army Air Corps tennis ace and recent winner of the District of Columbia championship in singles and doubles.

Others on the Army singles squad are Lieut. Stanley K. Robinson, Army singles champion and joint holder with Muehleisen of the District doubles title; Maj. Robert C. Van Vliet, former Army singles champion and captain of the Leech Cup team, and Capt. J. H. Drake. Drake won his place in the singles by playing spectacular tennis after the close of the regulation Army championship, in which he was eliminated in an early round.

Navy will be headed by Lieut. J. K. McCue, the most improved player in his service. McCue supplants Lieut. Richard M. Watt as No. 1 man, where Watt has performed the majority of his eight years as a member of the Navy team. Watt's game is reported better than ever, a tribute to McCue, who beat him out for the top position. Lieut. Gerry Smith, who is half of the City of Washington doubles champion, plays No. 3 for Navy, with Lieut. Jimmy Farrin No. 4.

German Cupmen Leading Italians

Rome, Italy, July 15 (A.P.).—Germany all but clinched the right today to face the United States team in the challenge round for the historic Davis Cup in Paris next week-end.

Prenn beat George de Stefani, 6—1, 6—4, 1—6, 6—2, and Von Cramm stroked his way to victory over Giovanni Palmieri, 6—3, 2—4, 6—4, 6—0. Both Germans continued the sensational form that swept the highly favored British squad from the annual competition last week.

On the basis of today's play, Germany should have no trouble winning the second pair of singles. Prenn meets Palmieri and Von Cramm tackles De Stefani Sunday.

Sonnenberg Beats Shikat on Tackle

Philadelphia, July 15 (A.P.).—Gus Sonnenberg, erstwhile Dartmouth football star, credited with introducing the flying tackle to wrestling, triumphed over Dick Shikat, of Philadelphia, tonight, using his specialty to hurl Shikat from the ring and win the fall in 33:52.

Shikat scored the first knockdown, but it won him a reprimand from the referee against using his closed fist. Then the battle seesawed for about fifteen minutes, during which the contestants were up and down. Sonnenberg used several flying tackles with varying success, finally launching one which precipitated both of them out of the ring.

Sonnenberg, however, crawled back and won the count when Shikat was unable to return.

West's Throw Home Cuts Off Winning Run in 8th.

Pass to Rice, Double by Cronin Brings in Decisive Tally.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

PITCHER "GENERAL" ALVIN CROWDER could not stand prosperity yesterday, the result being that the Nationals, after getting off to a 7-run lead, were given the scare of their lives and just managed to beat the Browns, 8 to 7.

And in order to do this it took a sensational double play started by Sam West to keep the St. Louis Club from taking the lead in the seventh and a long double by Joe Cronin, with Sam Rice on the paths, to permit Washington to win out in the eighth. It was the Nats' seventh straight victory and gave them their longest streak of the season.

Considering that the Nats knocked George Blaeholder off the peak in a six-run rally in the first and extended their margin to seven runs in the second, there is no earthly excuse why they should not simply have coasted home. But Crowder started loafing, managed to pull himself together and bear down following an alien two-run rally in the sixth, and then was unable to do it again when the Browns suddenly went wild with the bat in the eighth.

Coffman, Weaver Fail as Reservers.

With three runs over in this session and only one dead, Dick Coffman relieved Crowder and he lasted just long enough to walk Pinch-Hitter George Fisher on four successive wide ones. Then Monte Weaver tried his hand. Fred Schulte greeted him with a long single which scored two men and knotted the string. When Jack Burns doubled Schulte to third, Thomas was rushed to the hill. Bruce Campbell was at the tee and he lashed a liner to center. West came in for it, made the catch and shot a rifle peg directly to Spencer to nip Schulte at the plate with the run which would have put the Browns in front.

Then the Nationals hustled in from the field. Irving Hadley walked Sam Rice, the first man to face him, and Joe Cronin, with two dead, doubled to deep left. The latter tried to

$90,000 ARLINGTON CLASSIC TODAY DRAWS STAR FIELD OF 13

3-Year-Olds Battle for Crown

Top Flight, Filly, 2-1 Choice in Classic at Arlington.

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY.

ARLINGTON PARK, Ill., July 15 (A.P.).—The world's richest stake for 3-year-olds—the Arlington classic—will be decided at fashionable Arlington Park tomorrow for a pot of gold that will total $90,150. With it will go the 3-year-old championship of the American turf.

Thirteen, an unlucky number for some man's race horse, were named overnight to battle it out for the rich prize with Top Flight, champion racing mare of the world, ruling as favorite. Faireno, winner of the Belmont, Dwyer and Shevlin stakes, was second choice.

Top Flight, beaten only once in her career, was ready to go places tonight, but twelve of her gallant boy friends were out to stop her. The greatest flapper the turf has ever seen, owned by C. V. Whitney of New York, probably will go to the post a 5 to 2 favorite because of her amazing achievement in winning ten of her eleven races. Sonny Workman will ride Top Flight, 2-year-old champion of 1931.

Gusto, winner of the $50,000 American Derby at Washington Park last month, and Stepenfetchit, triumphant in the Latonia Derby, can not be counted out. Among the outsiders, Springsteel, owned by S. W. Labrot, of Baltimore, Md., was highly regarded and there also was support for Rehoboth, the entry of Dr. Fred Adams, of Baltimore.

C. V. Whitney and his wife and his party were due to arrive tonight by plane from New York to witness the race.

Following is the field, weights, jockeys and probable odds, listed by post position:

Horse.	Wgt.	Jockey.	P. odds.

AT THE POST
with Bill Bennings

DEAR AL: ARLINGTON PARK, CHICAGO, JULY 15.

Seventy thousand dollars, plenty dough even in 1929, has been added to the purse in "the classic" for tomorrow. The king's horses, headed by Top Flight, Faireno and the others, and the king's men, including Workman, James and the others, are on the scene. The track is fast tonight. It's not exactly a pre-Kentucky Derby or a pre-Preakness night here but there is a keen interest in what the battle of the nation's leading 3-year-olds will bring tomorrow.

At the other tracks, you may profit by not passing these up: Gloria Maris, Vendace, Sobieha, Bright Flag, Canron, Jack Murphy.
BILL.

FIRST RACE—DORIS JEAN is a pretty smart miss. I believe she has the speed necessary to lead these to the wire. OUTBOUND appears to be the one to beat. GOOD AND HOT for third.

SECOND RACE—MAROONED has this field at his mercy, I believe. The New York youngster has run some powerful races of late and needs only a ride tomorrow. HIGH SHOT and BARNSWALLOW to fight for the place award.

THIRD RACE—DIS DAT made a great showing at a mile and now goes back to 7 furlongs, which is a favorite with this one. Of course, the Kentucky animal must handle WATCH HIM. The latter is in fine form. WISE ADVOCATE to beat ON SIR for the third money.

FOURTH RACE—FINITE, a consistent fellow, gets my backing in this sprint. The 114 pounds he's asked to carry should not prove a handicap. LADDER won his last, but may go sour. CLOCK TOWER to take care of the rest.

FIFTH RACE—TOP FLIGHT gets an 8-pound pull in the weights from FAIRENO, and I look for the Whitney gal to step down in front in the Classic. Providing there is an upset, I expect SPRINGSTEEL or REHOBOTH to be the medium.

SIXTH RACE—Last spring, in Maryland, ROYAL RUFFIAN could have taken this group into camp. It's summer in Chicago now and I still believe he can take them. Comes to this race with some good trials recorded. Loves the distance. Needs a good rider. ETCETERA and SILVERDALE to provide the battle for place.

SEVENTH RACE—ENGLEWOOD is generally slow to find speed and will fancy the longer route offered in this. A swift finisher, I look for this one to winging home in the stretch. GABBO to cop if the top one makes mistakes. WATERPORT for third.

EIGHTH RACE—LADRONE to beat the improved BATTLE AX in the final. SANTON is also a sturdy contender and should get in the money.

DUSEK FACES GARIBALDI AT PARK

Turner Books Return Match; Munn in Bolling Feature.

GINO GARIBALDI, the dark-browed Italian wrestling champion, whose victories over Washington's favorite wrestling sons, Rudy Dusek and Fred Grobmeier, have elevated him to stardom here, will meet Rudy Dusek in a return engagement next Thursday night at Griffith Stadium under the baton of Matchmaker Joe Turner.

Turner said yesterday that Dusek had demanded the bout, and pointed out such a stream of circumstances leading up to his defeat at Garibaldi's hands that Turner broke down and quickly made the match.

The Garibaldi-Dusek match of two weeks back ranks along with the Steele-Shikat match of two years ago as the most exciting and hardest fought exhibition to be staged here in recent mat history. Garibaldi won when he raced across the ring and rammed both feet into Dusek's tummy as Dusek was crawling back in the ring. Dusek arched out into the infield, and Garibaldi finished him with a series of clubs to the head.

Jim McMillen also will be on the card.

At Bolling Field Tuesday the center of attraction is Glenn Munn, the last of the Minneapolis Munns, who produced Wayne, world's wrestling champion some years back, and Monte, a fighter with a long string of knockouts. Glenn was taught to wrestle by Wayne, who predicted that some day he would be champion. He is 6 feet 4 inches tall and weighs 221. He seems to know a lot about the game.

Munn wrestles Herbie Freeman, the Lindbergh of the Bronx. Doc Wilson and Frank Speer are the other featured growlers. The other bouts are Billy Bartush vs. George McLeod, Jerry Monahan vs. Joe DeVito, Tony Felice vs. the "Masked Marvel," Cy Williams, vs. George Manich and Buck Olsen against somebody yet to be corralled.

COLORED DEPT. LEAGUE.

Checking a rally by the opposition in the fifth and final inning of their game yesterday, Postoffice defeated P. B. P. P., 6-4, in the Colored Departmental League. It was the opening game of the second series. Thursday Public Buildings and Public Parks swamped G. P. O., 12-1, in the deciding game of a play-off series for the first-half championship.

REED, COCKY, FORESEES VICTORY

Exudes Confidence as Bout With Raymond at Laurel Nears.

SMILING JIMMY REED told the boys in his own confident manner yesterday that Phil Raymond, Baltimore southpaw, is as good as whipped right now, despite the fact that their ten-round clash doesn't materialize until next Wednesday night in Twin-City Arena.

"I'm willing to get down on the line at odds favoring myself at 2 to 1," said the smiling junior welterweight from Jacksonville. "I've fought lots better boys than Phil Raymond, and licked most of 'em. When I told the folks I'd take Jack Portney a couple of weeks ago they thought I was just sounding off, but after seeing what I did to Portney, maybe they'll take me seriously this time."

Although Reed did upset Portney, who, like Raymond, is a left-hander, and while Jimmy has been stepping around impressively in recent workouts in the Mohawk Club Gym, there are plenty of local fistic followers who predict he will find Raymond tougher opposition than Portney.

Raymond packs a dangerous wallop in his left hand and is more feared than Portney, to whom he has bowed on no less than three occasions.

AMERICAN LEGION SERIES.

Spengler Post will play two games in the American Legion series tomorrow. The first game will be with Lincoln Post at 1 p. m. on the West Ellipse. The second will be played at 3 p. m. on the same diamond with Stewart-Walcott Post furnishing the opposition. Bunker Hill and George Washington Posts clash at 11 a. m. on the West Ellipse in the first contest of the day.

Stocks Continue Advance With Aid of Willing Buyers

Tobacco Shares Take Lead in Rally, Followed by Rails and Oils.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Operations for the advance were resumed in today's stock market and found traders willing to participate in a moderate mark-up.

Some hesitation was evident in the early dealings, but with activity getting progressively duller on the reaction efforts to turn the trend encountered little resistance. Tobacco shares started the rally, which was joined in turn by rails, oils and other classifications.

At the close several leaders were 1 to 3 points higher, but the average gain fell somewhat short of Wednesday's. Transactions totaled 816,940 shares.

Adjournment of Congress.

Washington advices expressed assurance that Congress was soon to adjourn, bond quotations had an upward trend despite some easiness in foreigns, and the weekly banking figures reflected improvement, so that on balance the day's news was favorable.

American Telephone's long-awaited earnings statement had little effect marketwise, the stock selling off 1⅝ and rallying to close 1⅝ to the good. Wall street has been expecting a dividend reduction for several months.

Tobacco shares were stimulated by recent reports that June cigarette consumption showed a smaller decline from 1931 than has been the case recently. American Tobacco "B" gained 2 points, and Liggett & Myers "B" 3 points in active trading.

Rise in Rails.

The rise in rails, carrying New York Central, Santa Fe and Union Pacific up 1 to 2 points, was perhaps traceable to speculative interest in possible developments at the forthcoming meeting of railway executives who are to discuss further means of economizing, notably through eliminating duplications of some services.

Industrials showed fair strength, Steel common being up nearly a point, while gains of virtually the same extent were made by American Can, Westinghouse, Case and Standard Oil of California.

Weekly mercantile reviews were interested in the prospect of improved purchasing power through higher commodity prices, especially in the important farming country. Wholesale and retail business currently is being affected by the midsummer lull, especially in the industrial centers.

Buying by Farmers Raises Trade Hope

Better Live Stock Prices and Favorable Harvests Revive Activity.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Promise of improved purchasing power in the agricultural districts on the rise in live stock prices, and generally favorable harvest indications, afford a more favorable basis for trade forecasts, although the business of the week in retail and wholesale markets and in industry was on a restricted scale, the weekly mercantile reviews said today.

Bradstreet's said that industrial centers, commerce and trade are feeling acutely the seasonal lull, although the past week's retail transactions held up fairly well. Summer and vacation merchandise in the lower price brackets moved in fair volume, but in some sections of the country department store sales have slowed up materially, it stated.

According to Dun's, trade is more restricted than is generally the case at the opening of the midsummer and wholesale markets in practically all lines are extremely quiet. This review, however, regards the prospect of prolonged summer slackness less disconcerting because of the improved agricultural outlook.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Bankers reported a good distribution of the $30,000,000 Consolidated Gas debenture 5s offered today by the National City Co. Coming on top of three other utility issues aggregating more than $40,000,000, the market's ability to absorb this offering, the largest corporation financing since April, was regarded as an indication of improvement in investment conditions.

The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey today announced an offer to acquire all the outstanding class "A" and "B" stocks of the Pan-American Foreign Corporation on the basis of $14.64 in cash and 5,435 ten thousandths of a share of its own capital stock for each share of Pan-American Foreign. The offer is good until August 15.

A reduction of 10,145,352,000 net ton miles or 33.8 per cent was shown in the freight traffic of class 1 railroads in May as compared with May, 1931, according to the Bureau of Railway Economics. The traffic ran 45.7 per cent under that of May, 1930. Territorial decreases were: Eastern District 31.9 per cent; Southern 37.6 per cent, Western 35.1 per cent.

Building permits issued in 215 cities in June had a total valuation of $32,173,221, according to Bradstreet's. This compares with $84,566,714 in May and $89,543,442 in June, 1931.

Sales of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. for the five weeks ended July 2 were $86,062,734 compared with $99,342,006 in the like 1931 period, a decrease of 13.3 per cent. For the eighteen weeks ended July 2 dollar sales were off 13.6 per cent from last year. Tonnage sales for the five-week period decreased 4 per cent and the 18-week period decrease from last year. Tonnage sales for the five-week period decreased 4 per cent and for the 18-week period decreased 4.7 per cent.

New bond issues formally marketed in this district in the past week totaled $79,677,750 compared with $27,000,000 in the preceding week.

Canada's Gold Increases.

Ottawa, July 15 (A.P.).—Gold held by the minister of finance against notes issued was $64,273,520 June 30, according to a statement released by the department today. This was $575,290 more than is required under the Dominion notes act.

East Texas Oil Yield Fixed.

Austin, Tex., July 15 (A.P.).—The Texas Railroad Commission today set the allowable production of the East Texas Oil Field at 46 barrels per well daily for the fifteen-day period beginning tomorrow at 7 a. m. The field had been on a flat 50 barrels per well output since July 1.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

London—Most sections dropped on the stock exchange due to profit-taking and less favorable overnight Wall street reports. However, more cheerful Paris reports and repurchases in the afternoon caused a steadier close.

Paris—The bourse finished the week with an excellent tendency. Under favorable reports from foreign markets and the influence of the Anglo-French agreement, prices soared throughout the session and closed firm.

Berlin—Trading was quiet on the boerse and the close was lower.

Match Interest Payment Ruling.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Federal Judge Julian W. Mack today granted the motion of the receiver for the bankrupt International Match Corporation directing Lee, Higginson & Co., The Chase National Bank and five Swedish banding houses to show cause why they should not be restrained from paying $1,500,000 interest on German Reich's bonds to anyone but the Irving Trust Co.

ACCEPTANCES URGED IN EXPANDING TRADE

National Credit Association Points Out Safety and Liquefying Advantage.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Regarding the trade acceptance idea, members of the Washington Association of Credit Men have been informed by the national association that while the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and open market operations of the Federal Reserve System have given banks a measure of liquidity, banks have been criticized because they have not extended this liquidity to industry and business.

One of the most important reasons behind the banks' reluctance to pass on thi aliquidity, the review of the association explains, has been the scarcity of good commercial paper.

It reminds that as the bond market is not conducive to investment except in higher grade issues, bankers feel that to extend credit generally might result in return to a frozen condition.

Acceptances Are Urged.

In endeavoring to make available to the banks a type of paper that would be very attractive and at the same time enable them, through the purchase of such paper, to pass on to business and industry the benefits received by the banks, a vigorous program is being launched to increase the use of trade acceptances and the national association is taking an active part in this program.

It by no means contemplates the elimination of accounts receivable but is to be considered as supplementary to the open account.

A general increase in the use of trade acceptances, kept free from abuses which have been detrimental in the past, will make available to business a supply of circulating credit. When trade acceptances are procurable in the market, banks eagerly purchase them. In launching this program, vigorous effort will be made to protect the trade acceptancy from the abuses which might be resorted to by those who are undeserving of credit.

Acceptance Is Explained.

The trade acceptance which is created when the seller of merchandise draws a draft upon the buyer directing him to pay a fixed sum of money at a specified time, usually 60 to 90 days in the future, becomes a negotiable commercial instrument when the buyer accepts the obligation in writing, on the face of the draft or bill, and returns it to the seller.

The seller, by adding his indorsement, makes the instrument one which may be rediscounted at a Federal Reserve Bank and used as part of the legal reserve for currency. Under present procedure, the trade acceptance when properly used is self-liquidating and therefore a highly desirable medium for the investment of surplus banking funds which are not available to single borrowers offering as security only promissory notes of questionable liquidity.

The financing of business transactions through trade acceptances eliminates two chief obstacles to an increase in business activity; reluctance of bankers to advance credit on illiquid, single-name paper and unwillingness, if not inability, of manufacturers and merchants to extend credit on unsecured nonnegotiable, open-book accounts.

Wisconsin Stops Dividends Of Utilities as Safety Move

Madison, Wis., July 15 (A.P.).—The State public service commission today issued a temporary order directinging seven large utilities in Wisconsin to withhold dividends on their common stock pending a hearing before the commission.

The utilities affected were the Commonwealth Telephone Co., the Wisconsin Power & Light Co., the Northern States Power Co., the Interstate Power Co., the Northern Power Co., the Wisconsin Hydro-Electric Co. and the Interstate Light & Power Co.

The order, the first of its nature in the history of the commission and authorized under a statute passed by the 1931 Legislature, was issued to preserve the financial stability of the utilities and to protect bond and preferred stock holders and consumers, the commission stated.

All of the common stock of the utilities coming under the order, the commission said, was held by holding companies and none was in the hands of the public.

BONDS CLIMB AGAIN IN MODERATE SALES

Federals Are Barely Steady as Some Foreigns React; Domestics Advance.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Bonds continued to make headway in moderate trading, although the movement was somewhat less uniform.

The United States Governments were barely steady, and some of the foreigns reacted moderately, but among the domestic issues, striking gains were made in spots, particularly among second-grade rails and in the oils. Some of the gilt-edged issues were inclined to soften, possibly reflecting some switching in search of better yields. The price index of 60 corporate issues again gained one-fifth of a point. The turnover approximated $9,893,000 par value, virtually duplicating yesterday's.

In the rails, a feature was the large turnover and an advance of more than 4 points in the Nickel Plate 6s. Substantial gains also appeared in such issues as Rock Island refunding 4s, Burlington 4s of 1949, some of the Chicago & Northwesterns, New Haven convertible 6s and others.

In the utilities, the Consolidated Gas issues eased slightly, possibly reflecting some shifting into the new issue of 5s put on the market today at 94. The American Telephone issues were about steady. Metropolitan Edison 5s dropped 3 points. A group of stockholders in Pennsylvania petitioned for an investigation of Metropolitan, and its parent company, Associated Gas.

In the oils, gains of about 1 to 2 points appeared in issues of Phillips Petroleum, Sinclair, Shell, Texas Corporation and others. Standard of New York 4½s were up ¾; Standard of New Jersey 5s sagged ½.

In the foreigns, the German Governments recovered from an early sag to close about steady. Argentines reacted. United Kingdom 5½s sagged three-eighths of a point, and French 7½s, three-fourths.

Germany Pays $15,000,000.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—The German government is making a payment of $15,000,000 today against the credit of $125,000,000 extended to the Reich in November, 1930, by an American banking syndicate. The credit was to have matured next November, but was prolonged for one year on condition that the principal amount be reduced.

CURB RECORDS GAINS IN CLOSING MARKETS

Turnover of 80,000 Shares Includes Rise in Leaders; Oils Are Steady.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—The curb market resumed its advance in the afternoon trading today, after considerable hesitancy during the morning.

Gains predominated among the more active issues at the finish, although some soft spots remained. Trading slackened, the turnover of 80,000 shares falling 30,000 under yesterday's.

Some of the more thinly traded utility issues made substantial gains. Commonwealth Edison, Hartford Electric, and Pennsylvania Power & Light 7 per cent preferred gained about 4 points. Long Island Lighting 7 per cent preferred jumped 6 and Mohawk-Hudson first preferred, 10.

Associated Gas "A" again made a new low, at ⅝, and closed at ⅞. The problem of refunding the notes of its subsidiary, Rochester Gas & Electric, currently falling due, caused some uncertainty, and solution had not been announced while the market was in session, although it was understood Associated might lose control of its subsidiary. American Gas & Electric gained a point, and Electric Bond was up a fraction.

Oils were steady to firm, with both Gulf and Indiana up fractionally. Newmont was again a firm spot in the mining issues, rising 1½ points to 7½. Industrials were mixed. A. O. Smith gained 2 points, and Aluminum, Ltd., was up a fraction. Dixon Crucible made one of its rare appearances, off 8 points to 24, and Mapes Consolidated appeared 2 lower.

CORN BOOM RESCUES WHEAT FROM SLUMP

Liverpool Strength Ignored in Trading; Provisions Lower at Closing.

Chicago, July 15 (A.P.).—Sudden bulges in corn values rallied the grain markets today, after wheat had collapsed to within ⅜ of the all-time bottom-price record.

Reports that the Kansas corn crop was being hurt by dry, hot weather were largely responsible for the action of corn. Wheat was bearishly influenced by domestic primary receipts much larger than a week ago, with foreigners persistently minimizing purchases from North America, and by advices from both sides of the Canadian border that danger of black-rust damage was daily becoming more remote.

Corn closed unsettled, ½ to ⅞ above yesterday's finish; wheat, unchanged, to ½ higher; oats, ⅛ off to ⅛ up, and provisions, unchanged, to 5 cents down.

Aid to Corn Gain.

Adding impetus to the upward trend of the corn market was an improved shipping demand, with vessel-room chartered for 400,000 bushels to go to Buffalo.

Wheat weakness developed in the face of comparative strength shown by quotations at Liverpool, a circumstance ascribed to scantiness of shipments from Argentina, only 465,000 bushels this week, the smallest in many months.

Some buying of corn against simultaneous selling of wheat was apparent. Oats weakened with wheat, and both made a new low price record for the season. Oats and rye harvesting was said to be achieving rapid progress.

Provisions sagged owing to correct anticipation that Chicago stocks of lard would exhibit a large decrease for the last fortnight.

COTTON PRICES RISE ON TRADE'S BUYING

October Advances to 5.84; Liverpool and Bombay Report Liquidating.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—The cotton market was generally higher today on trade buying and covering, promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables, reports of small offerings, and apprehension that a continuance of very high temperatures in the South might cause plant deterioration.

October contracts sold up from 5.68 to 5.91 and closed at 5.84, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 17 to 19 points.

Offerings were absorbed on comparatively slight reactions, however, and the market steadied again, reaching the best prices of the day at mid-afternoon when July sold at 5.72 and December at 6.06, making net gains of about 14 to 23 points on the general list. Closing quotations were a few points off from the best under realizing.

General Business Quiet.

General business was quiet. Traders evidently were awaiting further developments in the crop or general situation, but activity increased slightly on the afternoon advance.

Selling of new crop positions recently attributed to brokers with cooperative connections was much less in evidence, but there was some selling of October by wire or commission houses on advances. Liverpool cable reported local and Bombay liquidation with a poor offtake in that market. Exports toay, 20,349, making 8,591,396 so far this season.

RAIL HEADS TO MEET IN COST-CUT SURVEY

Class 1 Roads Will Forget Old Competition Grudges in Seeking Relief.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Executives of the class 1 railroads, which in the first half of this year reported an aggregate deficit of $137,000,000, will meet here next week to pare down expenses.

The carriers are believed prepared to bury past competitive grudges and to seek a common means of turning their books from increasing red ink tabulations into black.

Three important sessions are planned—the meeting of the advisory council of the Association of Railway Executives Tuesday; the full meeting of the association's membership Wednesday, and a meeting of the Railroad Credit Corporation Thursday.

Credit Division Meeting.

The Railroad Credit Corporation meeting will concentrate on ways and means of helping the weaker carriers to meet approaching debt maturities. It recently announced that all maturities through July had been provided for.

At the meeting of the association's full membership, it is hoped to draft a statement of policy with which all carriers can agree.

A new appeal to the Nation to furnish the roads with a better opportunity to compete with truck and waterways competition is said by some of the association's leaders to be in prospect.

Pooling Plan Sought.

The executives also hope to work out a plan for pooling railroad transportation facilities in such a way as to eliminate costly duplication of services. This joint effort, if finally approved, would concentrate largely on the operation of limited passenger trains between leading cities.

The continued decline in freight car loadings has greatly diminished the normal revenue of the roads. For the year up to and including the week ended June 25, car loadings were 25.8 per cent below the corresponding period of last year.

For the first half year, total net operating and other income stood at $208,000,000, or about 60 per cent of fixed charges which aggregated around $345,000,000. Only one-third of the roads earned their interest charges in full.

PHONE DIVIDEND CUT IN AUGUST FORECAST

Observers See Slash to $7 or $8, Based on Income; Gillette Razor Gains.

New York, July 15 (A.P.).—Dow, Jones & Co. said today that directors of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. are "certain to discuss a reduction in the $9 annual dividend rate" when they meet on August 1.

It was pointed out that earnings of $4.02 per share reported for the first half fell somewhat short of the $4.50 dividend requirement, and in addition reflected the fact that subsidiary and associated companies paid out in dividends roughly $8,000,000 more than they earned.

Had they not paid out that much from surplus, the earnings of American Telephone for the first half would have been about $3.60 a share.

Forecast Is Explained.

"The management has given no indication of a reduction," the analysis said, "and at prior meetings this year there was no discussion of this point. But in view of the large station losses and revenue shrinkage, together with the fact that unless things improve, dividends of associated companies probably will have to be reduced, a reduction in the parent company's dividend to either $8 or $7 must be considered."

The company's report shows, however, that the associated and subsidiary companies came nearer to earning their dividends in the second quarter than in the first, presumably as result of economies.

They came within $3,000,000 of earning their disbursements in the second quarter, as against $5,000,000 in the first quarter.

Market of Shares.

Current market prices for American Telephone shares have been regarded in Wall street as "discounting" a reduced dividend. Even if the rate were cut to $7, at current levels the stock would yield more than 9 per cent.

Mohawk Mining Co. today declared an extra dividend of $2 a share, in addition to the regular payment of 25 cents, both payable August 30 to stock of record July 30. On May 31 the company made a distribution of $5 a share.

Dome Mines, Ltd., today reported net profit of $1,272,118 for the first half year against $882,491 in the same period of 1931.

Among larger investment trusts issuing their midyear statements today were the Tri-Continental Corporation and the Goldman-Sachs Trading Corporation.

Tri-Continental reported that the net asset value of its preferred stock outstanding June 30 was $71.14 a share. This compares with $100.94 per share on December 31. An increase was shown in cash account, which exceeded $9,000,000, or approximately 37 per cent of assets.

Gillette Safety Razor reports net profit of $3,283,785 for the first half year, equal to $1.25 a share on the common, against $2,682,345, or 95 cents a share a year ago.

NAVY NAMES LEADERS IN 3 SPORTS

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 15.—Elections of captains and managers for the baseball, tennis and rifle shooting teams were announced today by officials of the Navy Athletic Association.

Paul Masterton, of Paterson, N. J., will pilot the diamond tossers, and Richard D. White, Washington, D. C., was chosen manager. Masterton has been a member of the varsity squad for the last three years and during the late season held a regular position in the outfield. He is among the heaviest hitters of the squad.

David S. McDougal, of Washington, D. C., one of the most outstanding marksmen to represent the Naval Academy in a number of years, was named to lead both the indoor, or small bore, and outdoor rifle teams, and Paul A. Weintraub, of Philadelphia, will be the manager. McDougal shot consistently throughout last season and is the holder of a number of medals in local and national competition.

Antonelli and Romano Draw at Walter Reed

Nick Antonelli, Mohawk Club featherweight star who recently scored a sensational knockout over Joe Bruno, of Baltimore, was held to a draw in six rounds last night by Sammy Romano, of the Army Medical Center, in the main event of a free boxing show on the athletic field of Walter Reed Hospital.

More than 2,000 soldiers and civilians watched Romano surprise Antonelli with a consistently damaging left hand which opened a cut over Nick's right eye in the third round. Antonelli, however, held his foe even with a series of left hooks to the body.

Nick Stepetic defeated Doug Keyes and Stan Karrier conquered Lefty Bell in a pair of four-rounders. Other results were:

SANDLOT DUST

A MEETING of the board of managers of the Departmental League will be held at the Government Printing Office Monday night for the purpose of considering a report to be submitted by a committee on rules. Just what changes the committee will make, if any, is not known. Ed Lowery, Union Printers' manager; "Ty" Rauber, Bureau of Investigation pilot, and Burt Lytell, D. C. Repair manager, comprise the committee. When appointed the trio set about "clarifying" the rules.

The rumor that Vic Gauzza is to be supplanted as president of the loop appears to be without foundation. His record for the eight years he has served is unblemished. Serving without any remuneration he has given generously of his time in guiding the league to the position it now enjoys in sandlot baseball. The majority of managers are backing Gauzza to the limit and he is practically assured of receiving a vote of confidence at the confab.

The Gaithersburg A. C. will play host to the Bernizer A. C. tomorrow on the home lot in a game scheduled to start at 3 p. m. Murphy or Esworthy will hurl for the suburbanites.

A game for tomorrow is wanted by the Forestville A. C. Call District 9553.

The Miller Furniture Co. Team is going to spend its off day in the Capital City League tomorrow by giving Broadway the once over. All members of the team are requested to meet at Manager Thompson's home at 10:30 p. m.

Bill McCrea will lead the Auth's unlimited nine to Leesburg, Va., today for a single game. "Lefty" McMahon, ace of the mound staff, may be unable to pitch because of an injury to his arm. Tomorrow the team invades Leonardtown for a game.

Sholl's Cafe nine will tackle the Chevy Chase Grays on the Chevy Chase field today at 3 p. m. All players are requested to report promptly.

Majestic Radio and the Northeast Bricklayers will try conclusions today at 3 o'clock on the West Ellipse. Tomorrow the Majestics are booked to play Culpeper a double-header on the Virginians' home field.

Mount Rainier unlimited team will drill today at 3 o'clock. All players are requested to report promptly. Tomorrow the Ballston A. C. will invade for a tussle with the Marylanders starting at 3 o'clock.

Federal Storage and the Rockville A. C. are scheduled to battle today at 3 p. m. on the latter's diamond.

NATS DEFEAT BROWNS FOR 7TH IN ROW

register on Kuhel's single to left but Goslin's good peg nipped him at the plate. Melillo singled with two dead in the visitors' ninth but the game ended when Cronin went to short left for Scharein's pop.

In addition to probably saving the game with his double-play which ended the Browns' big eighth, West had a perfect day at bat, cracking out three doubles and a single and driving in two mates.

The Nationals started off like they would win by a country mile. Rice, Myer, Manush and Cronin, the first four up, singled and, after Kuhel had gone down on a useful out, three more hits rattled off the home bats. A single by West and a triple by Bluege spelled the end of Blaeholder and Spencer greeted Sammy Gray with a one-shot before he could get his pitching machinery functioning.

There was little warning of the impending storm in the eighth. Goslin went out easily enough, but then came Ferrell's second double, Melillo's single, Scharein's triple, Levey's single, and the end of Crowder. What happened before Thomas, with West's aid, was able to stop the alien advance already has been chronicled.

Thomas Faces Browns, As Nats Seek Eighth

Alphonse (Tommy) Thomas, who went in as relief pitcher both Thursday and yesterday and received credit for the two victories which resulted over the St. Louis Browns, will try to make it three in as many days when he starts against them this afternoon. Indications are that he will have a hard row to hoe, for he will be opposed by Walter Stewart, diminutive southpaw, who already has beaten the Nats twice this season.

Dave Harris will be seen in right field for the Nats. If there is one pitcher in the league that the former Greensboro sheriff likes to hit against, it is this same Stewart, who hardly has been able to get Dave out since he came to the majors.

Tigers Down A's In Eleventh, 11-10

Philadelphia, July 15 (A.P.).—The Detroit Tigers won a heavy hitting 11-inning contest from the Athletics, 11 to 10 today, to even the series here at one game apiece.

Simmons and Stone led the onslaught that found five pitchers working for the Tigers and two for the Mackmen. Simmons hit three home runs and a double, driving in six runs and running his total of homers for the season to 24. Stone hit two for the circuit on his first two times at bat, each time with a man on base.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

GRADUATED with honors from the normal training class of the Tilden, Nebr., High School in the spring class of 1932, Miss Vergie Lee James passed all requirements of the State department of education and was granted a teacher's certificate early in June—before she had reached her fourteenth birthday.

Miss James' record, certified to by County School Superintendent Alice Hall, gives her an average of more than 90 per cent for her teacher examination. In three subjects she was rated at 100 per cent.

Miss James began school when she was 5 years old. She was promoted to the fourth grade when she was 6, and at 9 years she was in the ninth grade. Despite her rapid advancement, she found time to take part in extra-curricular activities. She participated in dramatics, school clubs and debate work.

Chinch bugs stopped a freight train on the C. M. & S. P. Railroad near Credit River, Minn., according to Patrick H. White, who reports that in the early summer of 1888 the bugs roosted on the rails so thick that the train could not make an upgrade.

The shortest peace treaty of modern times was written in 1886 by Count Chedomille Miyatovitch, Serbian official, to end hostilities between Serbia and Bulgaria. The war, which had been waged for eight months, was closed with these seven words: "Peace between Serbia and Bulgaria is restored."

Any reader wanting further proof of anything depicted here should address the author, care of this paper, and inclose a stamped and self-addressed envelope for reply.

G.P.O. WORKERS ACT IN CLOSING OF BANK

1,300 Depositors Forming Protective Association to Save $500,000.

Government Printing Office employes who had their funds deposited in the North Capitol Savings Bank, across the street from the printing office, yesterday banded together to "protect their interests." J. M. McCauley was named temporary chairman of the organization.

A meeting was called yesterday afternoon at 4:30 in the Government Printing Office auditorium and was attended by about 200. The meeting was called by L. P. Speelman, superintendent of bindery, who explained the purpose of the session. After discussing the situation the depositors named Mr. McCauley as temporary chairman and then called another meeting for 4:30 p. m. Monday.

It was brought out at the session yesterday that 1,300 Government Printing Office workers were depositors in the closed bank and their deposits totaled $500,000, ranging from a few dollars to $9,000. All 1,300 depositors are being invited to attend the Monday meeting and join the "protective association."

Violation of Loan Act Is Charged to 2 Men

Morris R. Singer, 24, 82 T street northwest, and Samuel Singer, jr., 1840 Seventh street northwest, alleged proprietors of a clothing store at the Seventh street address, were arrested yesterday on warrants charging violation of the small loan act.

The charge was brought against the men after an investigation by police in the sale of a watch which allegedly was stolen property. Morris Singer was arrested last week on a warrant charging him with receiving stolen property. The men were admitted to $1,000 bail.

Search-Warrant Hearing Delayed

Arguments in Case Testing Power of Police Head Are Postponed.

Legal action on the right of the chief of police to issue search warrants, based upon a 50-year-old statute, was postponed yesterday when Justice F. D. Letts, in the District Supreme Court, put the oral arguments of Attorneys Whelan and O'Connell off indefinitely.

Leonard Hill, owner of the building at 1229 Wisconsin avenue, is testing the right of the police chieftain to issue such warrants. He was arrested on a gambling charge, and he attacked the legality of the warrant Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford had issued for the raid.

Hill's attorneys contend the police superintendent is not clothed with judicial powers and can not therefore issue search warrants.

Inquest in Auto Death At Blue Plains Today

An inquest in the death of Fred Herman, 72, an inmate of the home for the aged at Blue Plains, who was struck by an automobile near the institution two months ago, and who died Thursday, will be held at 11:30 a. m. today.

The automobile allegedly was operated by Joseph Thur, 1802 Potomac avenue southeast. Thur was arrested and then released to appear at the inquest.

"Wet" Houseboats Seized on Potomac

Two Men and Large Store of Alleged Liquor Taken Near Alexandria.

Prohibition agents and police dried up the Potomac River considerably yesterday when they arrested two men and seized three large houseboats on the Virginia side, near Alexandria. The haul allegedly netted 2,135 bottles of beer, a 200-gallon still, 25 pints of "hard liquor," and paraphernalia.

In Police Court, Assistant United States Attorney Roger Robb charged Earl S. Posey, 37, and Charles Byrd, 24, both of Alexandria, with possession. They pleaded guilty. Sentence will be pronounced July 29.

Now that they have the boats, the police are in a quandary. They don't think they can sell them and the other means of disposing of them under the law is burning.

Bonus Baby and Parents Facing Destitution Today

First Child Born in Ranks of Veterans Here Seeking Relief Will Be Ejected With Mother and Father From Room for Which They Are Unable to Pay.

The bonus baby, his 41-year-old veteran daddy and his yo ng mother face destitution today.

The small family—that of "dmund Pipenbrink has been given notice that they will be ejected today from their lodgings at 220 Arthur place northwest.

Mrs. Pipenbrink is just recovering from the birth of the boy. The latter—a lusty 9-pound lad—was the first child to be born in the ranks of the bonus seekers here. He came into the world on June "9 at Gallinger Hospital.

The mother was discharged after ten days' treatment at the hospital and the husband engaged the bare room they occupy. He gets $18 a month disability from the Veterans' Administration. This isn't due until August 1.

Pipenbrink has made a little money selling knicknacks he learned how to make while attending a veterans' vocational school. But the market is poor, he says, though the articles—doorstops, lamp shades, &c.—appear quite salable.

Yesterday Pipenbrink expressed hope that something would happen to help them. He didn't have any particular ideas where help might come from, but he said that in the predicament he was in all he could do was hope.

PHONE FIRM FAILS TO VOLUNTEER CUT

Public Hearing on Lowered Rates Will Be Resumed on Monday.

The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. failed to make any voluntary proposal for a reduction in rates to the Public Utilities Commission yesterday and thereby gave weight to the belief that it will put the burden of proof on the utilities body when the public hearing is resumed on Monday.

A last-minute conference may be held today, however, in an attempt to reach a compromise, but indications are that it will not be successful. The telephone company is expected to offer as defense testimony evidence that many subscribers have discontinued service during the past few weeks, many of them Government employes who felt they could not bear the expense in view of salary reductions.

The commission previously announced that the hearing would be resumed the first of next week unless a voluntary rate reduction was made before that time. It was said that the telephone company would make its report yesterday.

As the commission exposed its hand at the opening of the hearing, the chances for a compromise were slim from the start. Lacking a valuation and confronted with the claims of decreasing revenue, the commission will be hard put to prove its case if the hearing is resumed.

Four Women Hurt In Traffic Mishaps

Cars Crash on Defense Highway; Accident at Bladensburg.

Four women were treated at Washington hospitals last night for injuries received in two accidents in nearby Maryland.

A crash on the Defense highway inside the limits of Bladensburg sent Miss Genevieve Hartster, 30, 1313 Childress street northeast, to Casualty Hospital with a lacerated scalp and possible internal injuries. Miss Norman Lelaman, 27, 1420 Ames place northwest, was treated for a possible fractured jaw.

At Providence Hospital, Miss Genevieve Downs, 20, of 1101 Euclid street northwest, and Mrs. Marian Brown, 35, of 4236 Eighth street northwest, were treated for minor injuries after an accident on the Baltimore boulevard at Madison avenue.

District Employes Work Usual Schedule Today

District employes will work a half day, as heretofore, today, and it is conjectural as to whether they will ever get the furlough for which their pay was cut yesterday 8.3 per cent.

Maj. D. J. Donovan, auditor, had not worked out the problem yesterday, and so the Commissioners announced that their decision on the five-day week would be deferred until next week.

Two Children Bitten by Dogs.

Two children suffered minor injuries when they were bitten by dogs while playing near their homes yesterday. Horace Nichols, 8, of 611 Eighth street northeast, was bitten on his left thigh. James Frick, 8, of 410 A street northeast, was treated at Casualty Hospital for lacerations of the face, after being bitten by a dog.

MOUNT VERNON BUS COMPROMISE URGED

Use of New Boulevard in Only One Direction Is Suggested.

Hearings on the use of buses on the Mount Vernon Memorial highway were continued yesterday before Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d, with the possibility that the companies would be allowed to use the new thoroughfare one way, the remainder of the trip being routed over other Virginia roads.

The payment of a tax by the operators also was discussed, with the companies offering little objection to this provision. Gardner Boothe, representing the Annapolis, Baltimore & Washington Rapid Transit Co., said his company would be willing to pay a tax of 2 per cent of the gross earnings, the same fee as charged by Virginia for the operation of buses over its roads.

Col. Grant also suggested the staggering of bus schedules as a means of keeping the road open to traffic. He said that he was generally opposed to the movement of large numbers of buses over the road at the same time. It had been pointed out at yesterday's hearings that unrestricted use of the highway would allow the companies to start their buses in large numbers at 10 a. m. and an afternoon trip at 2 p. m.

No serious objection to Col. Grant's idea of using the road for one way of the round trip was raised. E. D. Merrill, president and general manager of the Washington Rapid Transit Co., said he could see no objection to the plan.

Yesterday's meeting was brief, no testimony being taken except that of Mr. Boothe, in regard to how much the company would be willing to pay. No decision has been reached by Col. Grant and it is not expected that any will be announced before next week.

Some opposition to the plan, however, developed yesterday on both sides of the Capitol. Senator Capper (Republican), Kansas, chairman of the Senate District committee, said he would not favor throwing open the new highway to general bus transportation.

Representative Howard W. Smith (Democrat), Virginia, a member of the House District committee, said he opposed scheduled bus stops between Washington and Alexandria on the boulevard.

Both expressed approval, however, of the proposal to route sightseeing buses one way over the highway, requiring them to make the trip up or down by some other Virginia road.

Liquor to Destroy U. S., Is Prediction

Religious Liberty Society Secretary Says Saloons Source of Crime.

"One of two things is inevitable—either the Constitution must be maintained and the liquor traffic destroyed, or the liquor traffic will eventually destroy this Nation," Prof. C. S. Longacre, secretary of the Religious Liberty Association, said yesterday at a meeting of the Takoma Seventh Day Adventist Men's Club at the Washington Sanitarium.

"The saloon was put out of business twelve years ago because it was the greatest crime-producing agency in the United States," he declared.

Following the address the club indorsed the eighteenth amendment. C. C. Pulver was named president of the club; J. C. Thompson, vice president, and E. F. Willett, secretary.

St. Swithin's Day Proves a Puzzler

Clouds, Sunshine and Rain Mark Date That Sets Pace for 40 Days.

For those who take no stock in the United States Weather Bureau's impatience with St. Swithin's Day legends, it may be reported that the Capital had a variety of weather yesterday—cloudy, clear and rain. The rain started shortly before midnight and lasted several hours.

The greater part of the day was overcast, but there were also several hours of bright sunshine—bright and hot.

Under the circumstances, its going to be kind of tough on the Weather Bureau to make a liar out of the saint this year, for yesterday offered almost a sufficient variety to cover anything we get for the next 40 days.

5 BUS CHIEFS SEEK OFF-STREET DEPOTS

Operators Doubt, However, if Terminals Can Be Obtained This Month.

Five interstate bus operators reported yesterday to the Public Utilities Commission that they have made or are making arrangements to comply with the latter's order requiring them to establish off-street terminals by August 1 or get out of the second traffic zone.

It appeared that some difficulties may arise, however, in that the terminals can not be completed within the time limit. The Greyhound Bus Lines, which was forced to abandon its enterprise adjacent to the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, notified the commission that it is still negotiating for the Masonic Temple but that the deal has not been consummated.

The Washington Rapid Transit for its Baltimore line, the Washington-Luray, and the Washington, Marlboro and Annapolis lines reported they have made arrangements to stop at the Annapolis Hotel, but this terminal must be remodeled to comply with the commission's requirements.

The Nevin line reported that it is making the necessary arrangements, but it failed to mention in what location. The other lines had until midnight last night to dispatch their replies to the query of the utilities body.

Three bandits last night held up the store of Lewis Kraft, 2100 Eighteenth street northwest, and escaped with $135.

Parents and Neighbors Tour Vicinity Seeking Youth.

The parents of James Gordon Helm, 12, who ran away from his home, 1068 Jackson street northeast, Thursday morning, have organized a searching party.

Neighbors and friends are driving around the highways near Washington seeking clews to the boy's whereabouts. Reports were heard that two boys, one of them answering the description of the Helm boy, were seen on the Baltimore Boulevard near Laurel.

The boy left a note saying that when the note was found he would be many miles away and told his parents not to worry. His father is William A. Helm, statistical engineer for the Potomac Electric Power Co.

It was said she had a possible fracture of the skull and other injuries.

THE NEW CINEMA OFFERINGS

EARLE

"THE MAN FROM YESTERDAY," Paramount picturization of a play by Neil Blackwell and Roland Edwards, featuring Claudette Colbert and Clive Brook. Directed by Berthold Viertel. Reviewed Friday afternoon.

By NELSON B. BELL.

Fulfilling every screen promise of being thoroughly engaging young artists, the stalwart and cleancut Mr. George Brent and the youthfully ingenuous Miss Loretta Young yesterday made their costellar debut as headliners of the vaudeville portion of the bill at the Earle and conclusively demonstrated the public's eager and apparently insatiable interest in their personalities and work through the medium of a brief and not overly complex little skit entitled, "The Honeymoon."

There is nothing in this breezily conversational playlet to tax the abilities of either player, but there is enough of humor and substance to afford their admirers—and they seem to be legion, as anyone seeking to gain entrance to the theater will speedily discover—ample opportunity to compound new enthusiasms over the charm of two of the screen's most personable and most popular figures.

Mr. Brent is probably a bit taller than you have imagined and a trifle more youthful in the flesh, perhaps, than in the shadow, and Miss Young a rather more pronounced blonde—although by no means a platinum—than the screen has permitted her to appear. Miss Young, by the way, is making her debut on the articulate stage and has not yet quite mastered the knack of projecting her voice into the auditorium instead of into a sensitive microphone which, I suspect, she imagines still hangs over her head. Nevertheless, a first day surprisingly free from even the minor defects of a bona fide "premiere" won these two a round of deserved ovations yesterday.

Not quite so much can be said of the screen feature. "The Man From Yesterday" is a pretty grim recital of what happened to three adults and a baby son of two of them as an aftermath of the war. It is a revamped version of the Enoch Arden tale, which is to say only another variation of the domestic triangle formula that reached the peak of its popularity about a decade ago.

It would be the part of absurdity, of course, to suggest that Claudette Colbert, as the nurse who married a British captain on the eve of the great offensive, and Clive Brook, as the captain, gassed and reported dead, offer anything but intelligent and sympathetic performances. It would be equally ridiculous to suggest that their present roles will do much toward adding any further luster to their already distinguished names. Charles Boyer, Andy Devine and baby Ronald Cosbey render superlative support.

The vaudeville bill introduced by the gaily caparisoned Miss Maxine Doyle, is completed by George Prize's rehabilitation of Punch and Judy; "Living Jewels," with dances by Hoover and Camp and songs by Evelyn Singer and Stanley Simonds, which falls something short of its intended brilliance, and that musicianly and philosophical comedian, Senor Don Alfonso Zelaya, who returns with a rejuvenated pianologue and scores his accustomed hit.

A "Merrie Melodie" cartoon comedy, "The Queen Was in the Parlor;" the Universal News, with Graham McNamee, and orchestral prelude complete the program.

METROPOLITAN

"THE MISSING REMBRANDT," First Division picturization of an incident in Conan Doyle's "Adventures of Charles Augustus Milverton," featuring Arthur Wontner. Directed by Leslie S. Hiscott. Reviewed Friday night by Don B. Reed.

Spiced with considerable more humor than some of their previous efforts, England's latest contribution to the films is decidedly entertaining, even if the mystery in the plot is plainly visible to the naked eye. It has, too, much more speed of action and dialogue than its predecessors of the same series.

Sherlock Holmes herein is called upon to solve a double problem. He must recover a Rembrandt, stolen from Paris, and protect a woman's honor from a blackmailer. Being Sherlock Holmes naturally, he does the job quite thoroughly. There are a few unexpected developments in the course of the story, but in the main it follows the lines of least resistance. There is a painful omission, in that one of the deepest-dyed of the villains is not disposed of when the picture ends—but after all, there may be future episodes to be filmed.

Arthur Wontner does a pretty likable Sherlock. He is inclined to strut, but why shouldn't the great Holmes? Ian Fleming has a meaty part as Dr. Watson, of which he makes the most, while Francis L. Sullivan is believable as Baron Von Gunterman, archcriminal. The only feminine lead is acceptably played by Jane Welsh. Two others with important bits are Philip Hewland and Dino Galvani.

Excellent ground and aerial shots of the recent Coney Island fire feature the Paramount Sound News. A comedy, "In the Family," featuring Fannie Watson, completes a bill which has full measure of entertainment.

Woman Poison Victim in Hospital.

Eva Martin, 33, colored, 437 First street southwest, was in undetermined condition at Casualty Hospital yesterday from the effects of poison which she swallowed.

PALACE

"LADY AND GENT," Paramount picturization of a story by William Slavens McNutt and Grover Jones, starring George Bancroft supported by Wynne Gibson, James Gleason and Charles Starrett. Directed by Stephen Roberts. Reviewed Friday night by Dorothea Lewis.

Here's a pleasant surprise in the form of an excellent picture.

That "Lady and Gent" title and trailer flickers seen last week had us set for all the gangsters "Scarface" missed, more sticky Broadway heartthrobs; in fact, anything but this.

Slag Bailey, rapidly becoming a has-been fighter, and Puff Rogers, night-club proprietress and entertainer, fall heir, through their "hard-boiled," argumentative tenderness, to the young son of Slag's dead manager. Meeting the youngster by accident, Slag and Puff plan to stay with him for two days and end by remaining to see Slag, shop foreman of a small-town steel mill; Puff ("Mrs." Bailey), the president of the Home and Garden Club, and "their boy," a college football hero.

Simple enough idea; but with the really swell performing of Wynne Gibson, as Puff, who never lacks a comeback, and George Bancroft, as Slag, who never has one, the clever dialogue, nice sequence-shifting, inferential story-telling, and the general atmosphere of a well-made picture, that idea grows into better than average entertainment.

Bancroft, doing his best acting of quite a spell, and the progressing Gibson girl are very fine, sandwiching moments of sincere and well-handled emotion between their amusing lighter sallies. In addition, Wynne sings, a la Nancy Carroll, and George declaims anent schools, the most mirthful speech of the month.

Little Billy Butts is memorable as the youngster, Ted, and Charles Starrett does very nicely by Ted in his grown-up stages. In fact, our only disappointment is casting which makes Jimmy Gleason die early, but he has his moments before his demise.

An Our Gang comedy, "His Pooch," featuring black Stymie, tiny Spanky, and Petey, the dog; an organlogue (so they say), and the newsreel complete the bill.

COLUMBIA

"HELL-FIRE AUSTIN," Tiffany picturization of a story by Forrest Sheldon starring Ken Maynard with Mat Pendleton, Ivy Merton and "Tarzan." Directed by the author. Reviewed Friday evening by W. A. Whitney.

It is not so much the story that makes "Hell-Fire Austin" of more than passing interest—for the narrative is the old race horse one—but rather it is the somewhat unusual locale into which this over-worked plot is projected.

Not only does the setting of this tale in the great wide-open spaces give a chance for this fast-riding cast to strut its stuff after the manner of the rip-snorting westerns of an age gone by, but it also gives the crucial race added zest, notwithstanding the traditional conclusion.

Ken (Hell-Fire) Austin, released from the Army, goes West and tries to regain his range job. He falls into the clutches of the law for crashing a hash joint broke, and is sent to the chain gang to serve his 60 days. He is later paroled to Edmonds to train horses for the forthcoming Cactusville Sweepstakes. Edmonds, the village Shylock, is double-crossing Judy and to save her ranch Ken leaves him and trains Tarzan for the big moment—which is won for our side, with the usual last-minute complications.

As a "western" actor, Ken Maynard has many times proved his worth, and here, with the help of Tarzan, he continues to uphold the traditions of the hard-riding, hard-fighting, he-man West. His pal, played by Mat Pendleton, tags along for not much reason, but he does a creditable job, withal. Ivy Merton is the only woman in the cast, and is highly satisfactory in what she has to do. The crafty Edmonds, entrusted to Alan Roscoe, is well done.

Rounding out the program is "Hollywood Kids," a comedy by the Thalians, demonstrating what a kid-parent farce would be like if the roles were reversed; "Cannibals Once," an interesting Port o' Call account of Suva, Fiji Islands, and a release of the Paramount News, with the recent Coney Island fire the high spot.

Vandals Loot Old Census Building.

Plumbing fixtures valued at $100 were stolen from the old Census building, First and B streets northwest, yesterday, according to a report by James Shea, 35 Constitution avenue northwest, manager of the property.

LOEW'S FOX

"SKYSCRAPER SOULS," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picturization of Faith Baldwin's novel, "Skyscraper," featuring Warren William, Maureen O'Sullivan and Norman Foster. Directed by Edgar Selwyn. Reviewed Friday afternoon.

By NELSON B. BELL.

From a novel that adhered none too closely to the verities of business life in the towering metropolitan beehives, there has been extracted a thoroughly tawdry screen story that will in all probability continue Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's almost unbroken succession of sure-fire box-office smashes.

There is a great deal of artificial comedy dragged into the action and no end of hokum, but just the same, "Skyscraper Souls," with its garish magnificence, counterfeit and genuine loves, dalliance with the social and moral codes, miniature stock market crashes, murders and suicides is composed of ingredients that past and present experience has proved most palatable to movie audiences.

It will be enough for many that Warren William has another role no less expository of the suave perfection of his polished histrionics than the character of Vince Day in "The Mouthpiece." As Dwight, the ruthless young financier, he has a part perfectly tailored to the measure of his endowments. No less excellent is the work of Maureen O'Sullivan, who in "Tarzan, the Ape Man" took on a new lease of life which she now strengthens rather than relinquishes as the little stenographer who becomes enmeshed in a compromising mesalliance without at all realizing it. Norman Foster, as the honest young lover, also is fine, except that he has been made the butt of a colossal penchant for comic disaster. Vera Teasdale, George Barbier, Jean Hersholt, Anita Page, Wallace Ford, William Morris, Hedda Hopper and Purnell Pratt are among the many who render colorful and competent support.

The "Curiosities" stage revue is one of the most diverting of recent vintage. That veteran pair of infallible funmakers, Yorke and King, genuinely stop the show in their major skit, and are closely seconded by Dorothy and Her Yellowjackets, a group of expert dancers and gymnasts; Harry Losee, in a spectacular novelty; Charles Chesney and Carol Atherton and the Chester Hale Girls.

Wesley Eddy returns to F street with an individual specialty that won unstinted acclaim and Phil Lampkin leads his men through another splendid overture of "Classics Moderne."

The Fox Movietone News, with some extraordinary views of the recent Coney Island fire, rounds out an entertainment that has no dull moments.

ORGANIZING VOTERS STARTED BY B. E. F.

Plan Calls for National Convention to Press Veterans' Claim.

Initial steps toward the organization of a Nation-wide association of voters, designed to "return the Government to the common people," will be taken within two weeks by World War veterans, it was announced yesterday at staff headquarters of the Bonus Expeditionary Forces.

All steps preliminary to calling a convention of the B. E. F. have been taken, save for the selection of a meeting place and the naming of delegates, who will represent the rank and file on a basis of 1 delegate to each 50 men.

Under by-laws prepared by a committee headed by Commander Wagner, of Erie, Pa., the new organization would be composed of honorably discharged veterans and would allow an associate membership to nonservice men and women of voting age.

Immediately after completion of organization here, with veterans now in Washington composing the charter membership, organizers will be sent to every State to form State departments.

With the task of registration of the men now in the District less than half completed, National Commander Walter W. Waters said that more than 9,000 membership cards already had been issued.
